

TAMMANY WINS EASY VICTORY IN NEW YORK VOTING

Democratic Congressman Elected and Roosevelt Amendment, Opposed by Smith, Is Adopted.

FUSION JUDICIAL TICKET SUCCESSFUL

Author of Resolution for Hofstadter Inquiry Loses —Republicans Beaten in Buffalo.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—New York Democracy, voting in large numbers yesterday, elected a Congressman, approved Gov. Roosevelt's personally sponsored reformation amendment and in New York City, gave Tammany Hall a great big hand.

It failed, however, to take control of the State Legislature from the Republicans. It failed, too, to elect the Republicanism of New York City's "silk stocking" district, being unsuccessful in the effort to unseat Assemblyman Abbot Low Moffat, despite a strenuous effort to do so.

The particular Tammany antipathy to Moffat lay in the fact that he is a member of the Hofstadter Legislative Committee which is prodding into city affairs and which has called numerous Tammany chieftains to the witness stand to tell what they know concerning charges of graft and improper administration of city affairs.

The reformation amendment, which Gov. Roosevelt had introduced but which former Gov. Smith charged would "put the State into the lumber business," was adopted.
The State voted also to abolish its State census which, it was argued, duplicates in large measure the work of the Federal Census Bureau.

Levy Is Re-elected.
Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for President in 1928, ran a poor third in the race for Borough President of Manhattan, the Tammany candidate, President Samuel Levy, being re-elected.

One of Tammany's enemies was defeated in Greater New York, the voters of Kings County retiring Robert K. Story Jr., author of the Hofstadter City Investigating Committee resolution.

Such upstate Republican strongholds as Rome, Ithaca, and burgh, Schenectady and Kingston changed from Republican Mayors to Democratic, Niagara Falls, Port Jervis, Hudson and Lackawanna took on a Republican complexion after having had Democratic Mayors.

Political fortune again failed to come to Mrs. Izzetta Jewel Miller, famous a decade ago as Izzetta Jewel, actress. She was defeated for an Assembly seat as she had been for a Congressional seat a year ago. Mrs. Miller, a Democrat, once sought a United States Senate seat from West Virginia. In 1924 she was the belle of the Madison Square Garden convention endorsing the nomination of John W. Davis, the nominee, declaring one of the factors in his favor was his good looks.

Fusion Judicial Ticket.
The fusion ticket for election of Judges in the Second Judicial District won in a landslide from the "no deal" party. The ticket, which included John J. McCooey Jr., son of the Democratic leader of Brooklyn, and which was endorsed by both the Republican and Democratic parties, was leading by approximately six to one with two-thirds of the vote complete.

A reported agreement between leaders of the two parties, whereby the Republicans were to have five Judges and the Democrats seven provided the former gave support in the Legislature for a bill establishing 12 Judges in the district, has been the subject of inquiry by the Hofstadter committee.

Democrats Control Buffalo First
Time in 15 Years.

By the Associated Press.
BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 4.—For the first time in 15 years, the Democratic forces took control of the Buffalo city and Erie County governments. Their control after yesterday's election was held by a margin of one vote in the Common Council and by several in the County Board of Supervisors.

The most outstanding upset of the election was the defeat of District Attorney Guy B. Moore, Republican candidate for re-election, by Walter C. Newcomb, Democrat, by more than 11,000 votes. Moore had served five terms as District Attorney.

The Democrats also elected two City Court Judges and the Children's Court Judge.

Re-Elected in Detroit

MAYOR FRANK MURPHY.

MAYOR MURPHY WINS IN DETROIT BY 75,000

Majority One of Largest in History of City—Couzens' Son Chosen Councilman.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 4.—Duplicating the run-away race he made in the primary a month ago, Mayor Frank Murphy, who campaigns as a friend of the unemployed, was re-elected in yesterday's nonpartisan municipal election by one of the greatest mar-jorities ever given a Detroit mayorally candidate.

Murphy had received 166,748 votes when complete returns had been tabulated, against 91,657 for his opponent, Harold H. Edmonds, an attorney and former Police Commissioner.

The voters were not so friendly toward the present nine-man Council and re-elected only three members. Among the new Councilmen will be Frank Couzens, son of Senator Couzens, and former Mayor John C. Lodge and John W. Smith.
Murphy, a former Recorder of the Court, was elected Mayor 14 months ago after Charles Bowles was recalled. During his administration approximately $20,000,000 has been paid out in municipal aid to the unemployed. Edmonds criticized his campaign that, although the race was without party emblems, he is a Republican and Murphy is a Democrat.

The City Council last summer limited the War Department to $7,000,000 during the ensuing fiscal year and the Mayor has since been active in solicitation of private subscriptions to augment available tax funds.

On the eve of the election he issued an appeal to every family financially able to undertake the care of a needy family this winter.

Three of four proposed charter amendments carried, including one for a bond issue for the street railway system. The proposed rapid transit plan for the street railways was defeated almost four to one.

DRYS SAY SMITH HAS BEEN ELIMINATED FROM 1932 LIST
Declare Damage to His Prestige Was Outstanding Fact of Elections.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The National Prohibition Board of Strategy said in a statement today that Alfred E. Smith's elimination from the list of 1932 presidential possibilities is the outstanding fact of yesterday's elections.

"The blow to his prestige in New York State, and thus throughout the country, ends abruptly the recent move to rehabilitate him for the Democratic nomination," the statement said, adding: "Beside this result all other results in the non lose significance."

"No other wet New York candidate, or wet candidate from any other State, in either party will be acceptable to the dries, but there are degrees of wetness; and when the bell weather of the wet is side-tracked, as Smith is, there is every reason to count yesterday's elections a defeat for the Smith-Raskob combine."

Ohio Welfare Bonds Beaten

By the Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 4.—Defeat of the $7,500,000 bond issue for state welfare rehabilitation was conceded by Gov. George White when almost half the state had rolled up an adverse majority of almost 168,000. Expressing deep regret over failure of the bond issue, the Governor declared it places the state in a "precarious situation."
The state's welfare institutions are "seriously overcrowded," the Governor said.

CLEVELAND VOTES OUT CITY MANAGER SYSTEM BY 9000

Adopts Amendment Restoring Government by Mayor and Council, With Latter Elected by Wards.

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 4.—After using the City Manager form of government for the last eight years, the City of Cleveland will restore the old system of a Mayor and Council elected by wards.

This city, the largest that ever used the City Manager form of government, yesterday gave a 9,297-vote majority to a charter amendment abolishing the office of City Manager and restoring the Mayor as the chief executive. The amendment also abolished the proportional representation (group-district) system of choosing councilmen in favor of election by wards. The vote on the amendment was 61,- 287 for, and 51,970 against.

Plans were started by the Children's League, however, for a court attack on the mayorality election which the amendment provided to be held in February. Mayor Feis-ter, director of the league, said he was considering filing a suit on the ground that it would be unconstitutional in an "even-numbered" year.

Defeat of the City Manager plan will oust from office Monday the present manager, Emanuel B. Morgan. Law Director Harold H.
Burton will then become acting Mayor until his successor is elected next February. Morgan has been getting a salary of $25,000 year, and the new Councilman Committee man Maschke, leader of the party in Cleveland, apparently remained in control. On the basis of nearly complete returns, Maschke's Republicans will have a majority of 15 in the new council.

Toledo Defeats Two City Manager
Proposals.

By the Associated Press.
TOLEDO, O., Nov. 4.—Two plans to replace the Mayor by a city manager were defeated here yesterday. The plan for a manager with a large council was defeated 38,774 to 22,324, and for a manager with a small council, 38,470 to 22,100. The city of 150,000 was divided into 15 wards, and the elections next Sunday, hopes for a good crop and for better prices, and the whole upturn of the local economy are looked on as giving promise of rapid emergence from the financial doldrums.

Government figures show large exports of wheat, insect, wool, hides and other staples against the lowest imports in years.

An outlook for an orderly election Sunday is a material factor in the revival of optimism. The de-facto Government, which has remained in power since the 1921 revolution will be supplanted by a regularly elected constitutional regime.

Y. W. C. A. GIRLS GIVE ARMS REDUCTION PLEA TO HOOVER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—A group of white-clad girl reserves of the Y. W. C. A. presented President Hoover today with a petition signed by girls in all parts of the country calling for "a strong program for reduction of all forms of armament."

The group, ranging in age from 12 to 18 years, formed a semi-circle about the president on the rear lawn of the White House while cameras recorded the ceremony.
Mr. Hoover received it with a grave bow and an expression of appreciation. Miss Mary Lesta Wakeman, president of the Girl Reserves here, made a brief speech of presentation, to which the President listened attentively. "I appreciate your calling on me," he said. "I want to thank you for your interest and your moral support in this movement."

LONDON-CAPE TOWN AVIATRIX
AT KIMBERLEY, SOUTH AFRICA

By the Associated Press.
KIMBERLEY, Union of South Africa, Nov. 4.—Miss Peggy Salaman, flying from London to Cape Town, arrived here tonight.

BULAWAYO, South Rhodesia, Africa, Nov. 4.—A gang of natives filled up a trail of elephant tracks and hauled away some dead trees stumps in a makeshift runway this evening and Miss Peggy Salaman, who is flying from London to Cape Town, took off on the last stretch of her long journey.

She arrived last night and made a forced landing without damage.
Her next stop is Palmyra.

BANK, $1,350,000 DEPOSITS,
IS CLOSED AT FALMOUTH, KY.

Action Taken by Directors; Other Suspensions Ripley, W. Va., and Mansfield, O.

FALMOUTH, Ky., Nov. 4.—Directors voted not to open the Falmouth Pendleton Bank today and turned its affairs over to the State Banking Department. Heavy withdrawals forced the closing. The depository took over the Citizens' Bank 18 months ago. The last published statement showed deposits of $1,350,000.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 4.—
The State Banking Department reported today that the Bank of Ripley at Ripley failed to open for business. The bank was closed by its directors and placed in the hands of the department for liquidation.

By the Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 4.—The State Banking Department today announced it had taken over the Farmers' Savings and Trust Co. of Mansfield for liquidation. The bank had capital stock on Sept. 29 of $275,000, surplus of $282,500 and resources of $2,973,770. E. S. Nail was president.

Democrats Win 3 of 5 House Seats

based on the assumption of a full party vote on party lines.

Some of the possibilities.
Among voters of the Northern Democrats, especially the Tammany group, there is a marked lack of enthusiasm for a House organization that would result in giving most of the important committee chairmanships to Southern members. Probably these Democrats, on the showdown, will go along with the charge of the party, to prevent the Democrats deliberately evaded a responsibility laid on them by the elections, but it is at least conceivable that disaffected members will absent themselves in sufficient numbers to throw the control to the Republicans.

On the other hand, the possibility is seen that the insurgent Republicans from Wisconsin, if they fail to get promises of rules reform from the House, will side with the Democrats on organization.

To sum it all up, the outlook for Democratic organization is good—much better, in fact, than some of the Democratic chiefs care to have it—but it is not yet possible to count the Republicans wholly out of the running. The result is likely to remain in doubt right down to the time of decision.

Party Lineup in the Senate Also Is Very Close.

By the Associated Press.
Although no Senate seats were involved in yesterday's voting, speculation at the Capitol today centered on the possibility of Gov. Larson of New Jersey naming David Baird Jr., defeated Republican candidate for Governor and former Senator, to the Senate to succeed the late Dwight Morrow, Gov. Larson, who does not vacate the office until January, is expected to appoint a Republican to the seat before Congress convenes, which

Democrats and Republicans Each Win an Ohio District.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 4.—Democrats and Republicans broke even in the election of two Ohio Congressmen yesterday, but both new members of the House stand together in opposition to prohibition.
Republicans functioned in the same manner that kept the late Nicholas Longworth in the House for 26 years to elect John B. Hollister, Cincinnati attorney, as his successor from the First Ohio District.

In Cleveland, Municipal Judge
Martin L. Sweeney, Democrat, swamped his Republican opponent,
D. Haydn Parry, to represent the Twentieth Ohio District. Sweeney will succeed the late Congressman Charles A. Mooney, a Democrat.

Hollister, a newcomer in politics, is a law partner of Charles and Robert Taft, sons of former President William Howard Taft. He won by a substantial majority over State Senator David Lorbach, Democrat, in a surprisingly easy contest.

Democrats, encouraged by slashing Speaker Longworth's majority from the customary 20,000 to less than 8000 votes last year, had hoped to capture the district. Hollister, however, led from the start and today's tabulation of 300 out of 341 precincts gave him 44,967 votes; Lorbach, 23,046.

Sweeney's election in Cleveland was never in doubt, running in a Democratic stronghold against an admittedly weak candidate. In 275 out of 277 precincts, he polled 34, 251 votes against 13,835 for Parry.

Republican Overwhelmingly Elected in Second Pennsylvania.
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—Edward Lower Stokes, Republican, was elected to Congress from the Second Pennsylvania District by an overwhelming plurality. Final returns today gave him a total of $4,185 votes against 1,860 polled for his Democratic opponent, Charles S. Hiff.

Stokes' election fills the vacancy in the House created last July by the death of Representative George S. Graham, Republican. The outcome was not unexpected as the Second District embraces eight of Philadelphia's 48 wards and is normally heavily Republican.

"—take the slight trouble beforehand to see what the market really affords"

The time to be critical is BEFORE you buy!

SOMEWHAT more than a million persons, in the next few months, will be buying new motor cars. Of this number, a surprising majority will buy virtually "sight unseen."

Selective Free Wheeling—Hudson and Essex drivers can "select" to free wheel or not, according to the road. On the straightaway and rolling highways you can enjoy the floating speed and gas-economy of free wheeling. Descending steep grades where you need the engine's extra braking power, a convenient control near the clutch lever throws the motor into conventional gear—Instantly—without clashing. An optional feature.

They will have read an advertisement here and there, listened to garage gossip and curbstome counsel, perhaps have had what the salesman calls a "demonstration."

Later, some will be happy and satisfied with their choice—but some will grow critical and wish they had "looked around" a little more.

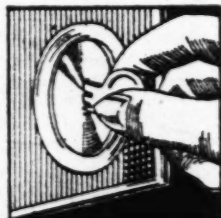

If you feel that in these times the sizable investment required in a motor car deserves more than casual thought, this message is addressed to you.

We want you to visit our showrooms, inspect and investigate Hudson and Essex cars in detail, make some real comparisons before you decide what car to buy.

We promise you that the experience will be educative and well worth your while; it may even get you more for your money than you otherwise could.

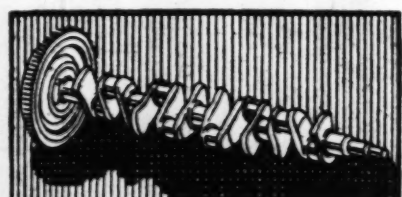

If we weren't pretty confident that our cars have something special to offer, something entitled to your careful attention, we wouldn't be buying this valuable advertising space to tell you about it. Hudson has grown up in the automobile business from a very small company to a very large one.

Startix, the Automatic Self-Start—new safety feature available at slight extra cost—makes Hudson and Essex motors stall-proof. Should you stall your motor on hills or in traffic, Startix restarts it—Instantly and automatically. Operated by the ignition lock, Startix starts your motor the moment you turn the switch, and keeps it going as long as the ignition is "on."

It builds superior values in good cars in what is probably the best-equipped plant in America—a plant with greater production capacity per foot of floor space than any other in the business.

The famous Hudson compensated inherently balanced crankshaft is the most accurately balanced crankshaft in use today—so smooth and vibrationless in action that it eliminates the need for cushioning vibration as needed in the case of many other cars.

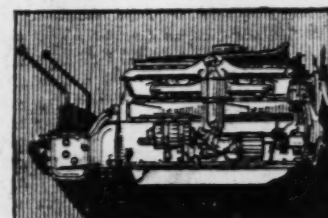

The time to be critical of a motor car is before you buy.

Don't be herded into an unthinking purchase. Take the slight trouble beforehand to see what the market really affords

—it may save you disappointment and cash. Go over Hudson and Essex cars critically and carefully—not to include them in your consideration is tantamount to buying with your eyes shut.

In engineering, construction and performance you will find them rich and distinguished in those characteristic advancements which have given Hudson the reputation in the trade year after year of "pacing the industry."

Hudson and Essex high-speed engines are the highest compression power units in use today, operating on standard fuels. The eight-cylinder Hudson "Greater Eight" develops 87 horsepower at 3600 r. p. m.; the Essex "Super Six," 60 horsepower at 3300 r. p. m. So efficient is Hudson and Essex engine design, owners may use ordinary gasoline without annoyance from engine knock.

In the long roll of contributions to the art of the motor car Hudson has more than sixty important "first's" to its credit.

These range all the way from the first Sedan and Coach bodies, from the first compensated inherently balanced crankshaft, to the variety of desirable innovations which individualize the cars today.

This habit and practice of leading the field in developing improvements which enhance the satisfaction of motor car ownership has given rise in the industry to the saying: "Watch Hudson!"

For the man who intends to buy a motor car in the popular price range today there could be no sounder advice. Hudson Motor Car Company, Detroit, Michigan.

'AKRON' HOME AFTER CARRYING 207 PERSONS ON 10-HOUR TRIP

New Navy Airship Still on Probation
Despite Good Showing in Flight.

LAKEHURST, N. J., Nov. 4. —
The U. S. S. Akron was back at its dock at the naval station today with a record as the world's largest carrier of air passengers. The Navy's newest air cruiser took 207 persons aloft for a 10-hour ride yesterday.

That number was 33 greater than the largest number of persons ever before to go aloft in an aircraft, the DO-X, a flying boat, having carried 159 persons for an hour's flight over Lake Constance three years ago.

Despite its showing, however,
the Akron remained a probationary member of the Navy's equipment.
The rules of the Navy require a six months' trial for all craft.

18 MONTHS FOR LIQUOR RUNNER

By the Associated Press.
TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 4.—S. A.
Stedman, alias A. W. Francisco, wanted by Federal authorities in Detroit as the alleged head of a liquor ring, was sentenced to 18 months in the Federal penitentiary by Judge Alexander Akerman yesterday for running liquor in Florida. He was arrested last June 16 by officers of the customs border patrol.

Because of indictments against him in Detroit, he was not allowed bond and has been in jail, here since his arrest. Judge Akerman credited him with six months in jail, otherwise his sentence would have been two years.

HOOVER TOLD OF PLAN TO CURB BEAR RAIDS

Chicago Board of Trade Delegates Explain Their System to Him.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. — The

perfecting of machinery capable of combating bear raids in the grain markets was reported to President Hoover today by delegates from the Chicago Board of Trade.

President Hoover in July charged that bear raids of grain speculators were depressing prices and causing farmers to lose profits they would have gained otherwise.

Silas Strawn, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, who accompanied the group today, said the President appeared satisfied with the steps taken by the Business Conduct Committee of the Chicago Board to halt bear raids.

"The President asked us to come down and talk over this matter with him," Strawn said. "We have no quarrel with the President about it. Mr. Hoover did not criticize short selling. That is necessary sometimes. What he did criticize was bear raiding and we assured him we had a machine that would turn over to combat this when necessary."

Strawn explained the Business Conduct Committee kept in touch with Government agencies and upon information of "irrational activities" either in long or short selling would take steps to end them. Among those who talked with the President in addition to Strawn were Fred Uhlmann, Siebel

Harris and P. B. Carey of Chicago;
Edward J. Grimes of Minneapolis and George Davis of Kansas City.

Strawn said as a result of the recent upward trend in wheat prices, "everybody in the market is optimistic about future grain prices and is glad to see the farmer benefitting."

Davis, who is vice chairman of the Grain Committee on National Affairs, designed to disseminate information about proper activities in the market, said business conduct committees similar to that in Chicago were operating effectively in both Kansas City and Minneapolis.

Australia Wheat Crop Good, but Stock on Hand Is Small.

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 4.—
The Australian wheat growing season was pronounced generally favorable today and this year's yield was estimated at from 165,- 000,000 bushels to 180,000,000 bushels, compared with 205,000,- 000 bushels in 1930.

The 1931 acreage was placed at 13,500,000 as compared with 18,- 200,000 last year. The stock of wheat in the country is said to be comparatively small, estimated at from 8,000,000 to 11,000,000 bushels. By the time the new crop is ready for market the 1930 crop will have been disposed of and there will be no carryover of old wheat by Dec. 31.

HOLDING CONCERN REVISING RATES OF LACLEDE GAS

President of Local Company Tells Aldermen He Hopes for Lower Charges for Domestic Use.

BASED ON USE OF NATURAL PRODUCT

Production Costs Expected to Reduce Materially When New Arrangement Goes Into Effect.

Information given to the Natural Gas Committee of the Board of Aldermen yesterday by George B.
Evans, president of Laclede Gas Light Co., indicates that the Laclede company will be able materially to reduce its production cost by purchase of natural gas for mixing with manufactured gas from the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation.

The immediate effect, it was indicated by a prepared statement submitted by Evans, will be a lower rate for house heating, but Evans was unable to state the amount of the reduction. It is expected, however, as was told in the Post-Dispatch Oct. 24, that this reduction will be at least 20 per cent.

Evans said he expected his company to build up a large volume of home heating business, "assisting in the elimination of a large portion of the smoke nuisance," and that he hoped the greater consumption of gas would result in lower rates for general domestic uses.

Schedule Being Prepared.
He said he did not know what the new rate schedule would be,
as it is being prepared by the executives of Utilities Power and Light Corporation of Chicago, the holding company that owns Laclede. He doubted, however, that there would be any immediate reduction of the general household rate.

The Laclede company must have permission of the Missouri Public Service Commission before it may use natural gas in mixture with manufactured gas, and its schedule of rates must be approved by the commission. Evans said the matter would be submitted to the commission as soon as possible.

The basic rate at which natural gas will be purchased from the pipe line company, Mississippi River Fuel Corporation, is 25 cents a thousand cubic feet. It was disclosed. This flat rate will be paid until Dec. 31, 1932, giving Laclede two years in which to readjust its operations, after which the rate will vary by years, from 25 cents to 31 cents, on a 60 per cent load factor. The load factor is the ratio of average daily use to maximum demand, and the higher the load factor the more even will be the demand upon the pipe line.

Connecting Pipes Laid.
The gas will be purchased from the pipe line by the Missouri Industrial Gas Co., affiliated with Laclede, and passed on to Laclede "at cost," according to Evans' statement. In response to questions, Evans said the reason for this is that the Missouri company already has pipes connecting with both the main line of the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation and the distribution system of Laclede. If Laclede bought direct it would have to construct duplicate connecting pipe lines, Evans said.

In response to questioning by Alderman Clarence Kaufmann, Evans said that although Laclede would pay no profit to the Missouri company, it would have to pay the carrying charges due to the use of Missouri company's pipes.

City Counselor Muench brought out that in connection with its 1928 rate case Laclede showed its net cost of gas at the manufacturing plants, ready for distribution, was 23 cents a thousand cubic feet.
Evans said the cost now would be slightly higher.

Comparison of the cost of manufactured gas with the price to be paid for natural gas shows how it is probable the net production cost will be reduced. Manufactured gas, which costs Laclede 25 cents, has 600 British thermal units to the cubic foot, or reducing it to the therm basis which Laclede is now using for billing a majority of its customers, it has six therms to the thousand cubic feet. This makes the cost 3.33 cents a therm.

Cut of 31 Per Cent.
The natural gas averages 955 B.
T. U. and has 9.55 therms to the thousand cubic feet. At 25 cents a thousand cubic feet the cost is 2.63 cents a therm. This is a reduction of 31 per cent from the manufacturing cost for the equivalent heat units. This lower cost would be enjoyed for only a part of the gas used in the mixture to produce a gas of about 500 B. T. U.
Evans said, however, that he expected the mixture would contain more natural than manufactured gas.

Alderman Wimer, who is not a member of the committee, questioned Evans as to gas rates in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus and other Ohio cities, where he said, according to his information,
the prices are lower than in St.
Louis. These cities use natural gas. Evans said they are nearer the gas fields of West Virginia and

DEPARTMENT STORE TRADEINCREASED IN SEPTEMBER

and early October shows an expansion of freight-car loadings, increased sales by department stores and mail-order houses, a slight advance in foreign trade and larger bank debits.

On the other hand, industrial production failed to expand during September, and further declines were noted in the iron and steel, automotive and building material industries.

Building contracts awarded increased in September, contrary to the usual trend, but the survey said the gain was not held during early October. Wholesale prices dropped in September.

Activity in major lines producing articles for direct consumption, the summary said, "continues at a relatively high level, particularly in the textile and food products industries, although some slackening was noted in the leather and rubber products industries. The index of manufacturing was unchanged, but a seasonal increase is usual at this time. A slight gain in factory employment in September was not of seasonal proportion and there was a further reduction in payroll to $1.5 billion. Payroll gains in September were confined to the clothing, food and chemical groups, with all other major classes reporting declines."

50,000 EMPLOYED, HOOVER SAYS, ON PUBLIC BUILDINGS

Number Will Be Doubled by Jan. 1, President Estimates in Survey of Federal Program.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—President Hoover estimated today that 50,000 men are now directly and indirectly employed on the public building program and that the number will be doubled by Jan. 1.

In a formal statement, the President said 817 projects had so far been specifically authorized and that 222 firms of architects were engaged in drawing plans and in supervision of work.

Tracing the progress of the program, Mr. Hoover said that 131 buildings had been completed at a cost of $41,934,569, and 16 had been completed in September and October.

On Nov. 1, the President said there were 270 buildings under construction at an estimated cost of $229,772,700. During September and October 41 contracts were let with a total in excess of $18,000,000.

There were 64 projects in which sites had been arranged, drawings completed, for which construction contracts had been invited, at a total estimated cost of $19,970,500, Mr. Hoover said.

"There are 240 projects in which sites have been selected and on which plans are now under way of a total estimated cost of $14,947,923," he said. "At the first of this month there were 100 projects in which the sites have been determined upon and are in process of being acquired. The estimated cost of the buildings there on is $31,150,000. There are 12 projects held for amended legislation or for other reasons with a total estimated cost of $3,145,000. It is estimated that the number of men now directly and indirectly employed on this program is 50,000. It is estimated by the Treasury Department that the number that will be directly and indirectly employed on Jan. 1 is 100,000."

Kentucky than St. Louis is to a source of supply.

Wimer made a statement to the committee, suggesting that it request a complete revaluation of the Laclede company's property, in view of the decline in material costs, with the expectation that present reproduction cost would give a considerably lower rate base.

No Authority Over Rates.

President Neun of the Board of Aldermen, who did most of the questioning of Evans, said the city would have full opportunity to go into the fairness of rates when the matter comes before the Public Service Commission. Wimer had charged the Laclede company with ignoring the Board of Aldermen. Neun replied that the Laclede executives had appeared before the committee whenever requested, but he pointed out that the Board of Aldermen has no authority over rates and that under the law the schedule must be submitted to the Public Service Commission.

Benjamin C. Comfort, general manager of the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation, was questioned as to the operations of the pipe line that brings natural gas from Louisiana. He said he could give no further details as to the contracts were the private affairs of given by Evans.

Comfort said the main 22-inch pipe line is 430 miles long and has four intermediate pumping stations at intervals of about 85 miles. Although the pipe line has a capacity of 100,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day, it is delivering only about 40,000,000. Its operations thus far have not been profitable due to the comparatively small volume of gas sold, he said. The line was opened Nov. 1, 1929, and the depression then beginning cut down the sale of gas below what the company had looked for, he said.

The pipe line company sells natural gas direct to a number of steel foundries and brick and glass plants and also sells gas to the Missouri Industrial Gas Co. for resale to industries. Comfort would not give the prices at which this gas is sold, stating that the contracts were the private affairs of the consumers and the pipe line company.

Comfort declared the pipe line company is not a public utility and not required to submit its rates to the Public Service Commission.

In a Kansas City case the Public Service Commission has taken the opposite view and has ordered the Cities Service Co., whose pipe lines have been distributing natural gas to industries in Missouri, to file a schedule of rates. The matter is still in dispute. The natural gas pipe lines also have resisted State control on the ground that they are engaged in interstate business and are therefore subject to regulation only by Congress.

Evans' Statement.

The statement made to the Committee by President Evans of the Laclede company was, in part: "It is self-evident that in order to secure natural gas for mixing purposes a new field will have to be developed for the sale of gas. The only field of this nature available at the present time is house heating, and it is the intention of the Laclede company to develop this load to the very best of its ability, thereby securing a larger volume of gas sales. If this volume can be increased sufficiently, the cost of gas to the consumer can be lowered. It is simply impossible to lower rates of any public utility unless the volume of sales can be increased from time to time, thereby reducing the unit cost of making such sale.

"To secure the necessary result it is the intention of the Laclede company to put into effect the lowest possible house-heating rate, thereby assisting in the elimination of a large portion of the smoke nuisance in St. Louis. This will necessarily be a development rate and, of course, in securing the business the customer must take into consideration all of the costs in connection with present methods of heating as compared with the modern up-to-date method of gas heating.

"It is the intention of the Laclede company to make every effort possible to secure and hold gas-heating customers, thereby increasing the volume of sales, which when accomplished will reduce the gas rates to consumers of gas for all purposes."

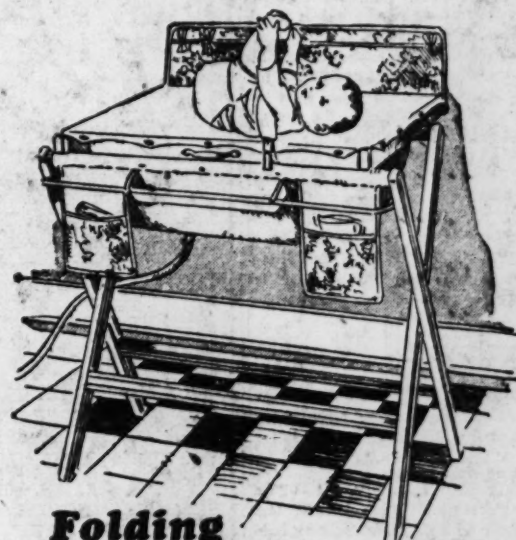

ing that certain Oklahoma interests that have been corresponding with Alderman Wimer about their offer to construct a new pipe line and sell natural gas to Laclede had asked a minimum price of 25 cents a thousand cubic feet for gas delivered at the city gate. This is 9 cents higher than the basic rate provided in the contract with the Mississippi River Fuel Corporation.

ENDS LIFE AT WHEEL OF AUTO AFTER CLOSING GARAGE DOORS

Forest Yorty Found Dead in Machine by Neighbor Whom Wife Called.

Forest Yorty, 26 years old, a furniture finisher, was found dead yesterday at the wheel of his automobile in a garage in the rear of his home at 4523 Nebraska avenue. The motor of the car was running and the garage doors, with rags stuffed into a crack under them, were closed.

Yorty's wife said he left home at 5:30 a. m., saying he was going to a bakery. When he failed to return by 9:30 she investigated and heard the motor running behind closed doors. She called a neighbor, who entered the garage and found the body. She said she knew of no reason for him to end his life.

HART SCHAFFNER & MARX CLOTHES

BACK TO THE PRICES OF FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

this BIG NEWS pointed the way!

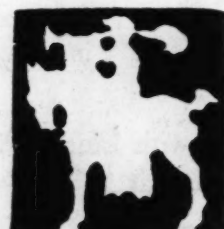

MILLIONS of American men were waiting for this news... Men who were skimping along in old clothes—waiting for something to happen—hoping clothes prices would come down to meet their 1931 pocketbooks.

Well, something did happen—and we made it happen. We put prices back to fifteen years ago at one fell swoop—at one big jump.

And at the same time we pushed quality ahead and went forward to new peaks of value and style—finer linings, finer tailoring, better fit; quality that couldn't be produced fifteen years ago.

Get the new suits you have earned and wanted like thousands of men are doing everywhere through the whole land. Pay the prices you want to pay—and not one nickel more.

Trust Hart Schaffner & Marx as you always have. The clothes are a big step up in quality and a big step down in price. They're ready for you.

NAVY BLIMP DAMAGED IN CHANGE OF WIND

Largest Non-Dirigible in World Torn When Dashed Against Hangar Door.

By the Associated Press.
WASH. MAY, N. J., Nov. 4.—
The Navy blimp K-1, largest non-rigid dirigible in the world, was damaged here last night as a ground crew tried to maneuver it into its hangar at the naval air station. The ship cost $350,000.

Sixty sailors, comprising the landing crew, had just worked the craft's nose into the hangar when a sudden crosscurrent of air but-teted the ship against the door of the hangar and tore a large rent in the gas bag. Thousands of cubic feet of helium escaped, and the control car was damaged.

The blimp's crew of five, commanded by Lieut. P. S. Bailey, had left the gondola before the berthing began.

The K-1, with a capacity of 22-600 cubic feet of helium, had been 20 hours in the air, officials said.
It had just returned from a flight to Lakehurst. Darkness had fallen when the berthing was started but conditions for the operation had been deemed favorable.

The blimp was built at Akron, O., and assembled at Lakehurst. The gondola on which its two motors were mounted was constructed with great secrecy at the naval aircraft factory in the Philadelphia Navy yard.

The K-1 was delivered to the Navy a little more than a month ago and although its home port is Lakehurst, it was transferred with the rest of the Navy's blimps to Cape May until the blimp hangar at Lakehurst is completed.

LIEUTENANT WHOSE ACCOUNTS WERE SHORT QUITS U. S. ARMY

Former Post Exchange Officer at Fort Totten Resigns "For Good of Service."

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The War Department announces the resignation of First Lieutenant Edward A. Dolph "for the good of the service."

Dolph disappeared Sept. 10 from Fort Totten, New York City, where as post exchange officer he handled the funds of the military canteen or store. He was arrested 10 days later by Department of Justice agents and New York detectives on Broadway. He told them he was on his way to Fort Totten to give himself up. Officers at the post reported a shortage of $6000 to $7000 in Dolph's accounts. After a conference with local authorities the case was placed in the hands of the army.

The announcement that he had been allowed to resign and that President Hoover had accepted his resignation was interpreted as indicating the shortage had been made up. About $1000 was found in Dolph's possession when he was arrested. Officers who had traced him said he had spent considerable money on a trip to Canada.

U. S. ASKS CHINA TO RESCUE MISSIONARY HELD BY BANDITS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The State Department has made "urgent representations" to the Chinese Government for the rescue of J. W. Vinson, Lexington, Va., an American Presbyterian missionary, captured by bandits. Arrest and punishment of the kidnappers was requested.

In calling on the Nanking Government for the rescue the department acted through Willys R. Peck, American Consul-General at Nanking. In the absence of Minister Nelson T. Johnson from the city.

In addition to appealing to the national authorities through the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Peck telegraphed to the chairman of the Provincial Government of Kiangsu, in which the incident occurred.

FUNDS SUBSCRIBED FOR LOANS ON CORN

$8,000,000 to Be Available for Producers in About 30 Days.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Organization of the National Corn Credit Corporation has been virtually completed, and loans to midwest corn growers probably will be available within 30 days.
Approximately $8,000,000 will be lent to farmers who desire to hold their corn for higher prices, under the plan. The states of Illinois, Iowa, Indiana and Nebraska will participate. Funds will be handled through the Federal Intermediate credit bank of St. Louis.
Completion of the organization was announced last night by George A. Ranney, vice president and treasurer of the International Harvester Co. Ranney directed the raising of part of the $1,000,000 original capital for the corporation.

"We are certain of obtaining the necessary $500,000 of private capital," Ranney said. "Banks and industrial concerns have pledged most of the amount, and we are positive of being able to obtain the remainder on short notice."

"The remaining $500,000 will be supplied by affiliated organizations of the Federal Farm Board. The pool will be functioning within 30 days, probably much sooner than that."

Ranney said the following industrial concerns have pledged financial support to the corporation: International Harvester; Sears, Roebuck & Co.; Standard Oil Co. of Indiana; Montgomery Ward & Co.; Case Threshing Co.; John Deere Co.; Quaker Oats Co., and the Chicago meat packing concerns.

Five large Chicago banks also have agreed to participate, Ranney said.
The approximately $3,000,000 available from the corporation will be advanced to farmers on a basis of about 75 per cent of the market value of their corn. Corn on which a loan is made will be sealed in the farmer's crib, and a warehouse receipt issued as security for the loan.

Ranney said that need for the corporation rises from the difficulty of financing in the corn belt states. He said there is no surplus of corn this year, and that prices are lower than they should be. He quoted Department of Agriculture statistics showing that corn is selling on farms for from 18 to 23 cents a bushel, compared with about 66 cents a bushel a year ago. This is despite a smaller than normal crop, Ranney said.

TAX ON GIFTS BEFORE DEATH AGAIN HELD UNCONSTITUTIONAL

United States Court of Appeals Rules in Case of Boston Lawyer.
By the Associated Press.
BOSTON, Nov. 4.—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals has reaffirmed a decision which declared unconstitutional the Federal statute proclaiming that all gifts over $5000 made by a person within two years of his death are taxable. The statute presumes that the gifts are made in contemplation of death.

The decision was made in the case of the Internal Revenue Department against the estate of the late Charles F. Choate Jr., Boston lawyer. Shortly before his death, Choate gave his daughter, Mrs. Josephine Choate Perkins, a wedding gift of securities valued at $20,000. At the same time he made a similar gift to another daughter, Elisabeth. The Federal Government sought to collect taxes on these and the estate appealed. Judge James M. Morton upheld the contentions of the estate that the statute was unconstitutional, and the Circuit Court has upheld this ruling.

DR. EDWARD FRANCIS TELLS OF RESEARCH IN TULAREMIA

Expert From National Institute of Health Addresses St. Louis Medical Society.

Dr. Edward Francis of the National Institute of Health, Washington, told the St. Louis Medical Society last night of his 12 years of research in tularemia, a disease contracted generally through the handling of wild rabbits.

Dr. Francis' studies began in 1919 when the United States Public Health Service sent him to the Pahvant Valley in Utah to investigate the strange illness of several ranchers. He learned that the infection might result from the bite of a deer fly or from handling rabbits and linked it with the germ discovered in 1909 in ground squirrels in Tulare County, Cal. The disease, he has found, is carried by quail, coyotes, skunks, sage hens, and even hogs, although 90 per cent of the infections in human beings is caused by rabbits, which generally are infected by ticks. The mortality from the disease, he said, is a little more than 5 per cent, placing it about equal to typhoid fever. He said that 91 cases of tularemia have been reported in Missouri, including 12 so far in 1931.

Dr. Francis is continuing his researches in an effort to discover effective immunization and methods of treatment. He recommends the handling of game with rubber gloves as a means of avoiding the disease.

SOCIALIST ADMINISTRATION IS DEFEATED AT READING, PA.

Republicans and Democrats Support Fusion Candidates and Win Easily.

READING, Pa., Nov. 4.—Republican and Democrats, united in support of Fusion candidates, scored a complete victory in yesterday's election and regained control of the city administration held for two to four years by Socialists. Returns showed the Fusionists had apparently elected Heber Ementrout as mayor, two councilmen, city controller and city treasurer; regained control of the city school board and swept their candidates into county offices. The developments left the Socialist Party with two councilmen who have two years to serve and two representatives from Berks County in the general assembly.

THREE MEN AND TWO WOMEN ADMIT $100,000 JEWEL THEFT

Maid Confesses She Took Loot From Home of Chicago Broker.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Three men and a woman, arrested last night in Gary, Ind., confessed, Chicago police said, to the theft two months ago of jewelry valued at $100,000 from the home of Lawrence F. Stern, Glencoe, head of an investment house bearing his name. Wilmar Harjes, 27 years old, who was Mrs. Stern's maid, was the one who took the loot, police said. In her confession, authorities said, she implicated Ernest Levy, his brother, Max, and David Blumenfeld.

Miss Harjes told police the men gave her $2000 for her part in the plot.

NEGRO SHOTS WOMAN, SAYS SHE TRIED TO 'VOODOO' HIM

Thomas Robbins, a Negro, 914 Iron street, shot his upstairs neighbor, Mrs. Lucille Elbyrd, Negro, in the leg yesterday when, he says, she tried to "put a voodoo on him." Robbins, who handed over a .33 caliber revolver to officers, explained his neighbor had been trying out "voodoo stuff" on him for three weeks. Yesterday, while he was eating lunch, she paced the floor upstairs shouting, "You ain't going back to work." Robbins said he surmised Mrs. Elbyrd was referring to him so, when she came downstairs, he fired five shots at her to break the "spell." On bullet hit her in the left leg.

BAD BREATH

What's the good of gargling if bad breath still stays bad?

We've made a breath taking discovery for taking away bad breath (halitosis)

Don't waste dollars on antiseptics that must be used full strength. We've discovered a new antiseptic that, even when diluted with two parts of water, kills germs in 10 seconds.

THREE people in four add water to their mouth wash. They don't know that most antiseptics lose germ-killing power unless used full strength. That's why we say: Stop fooling yourself with weak antiseptics.

If you want to check bad breath due to unhygienic mouth conditions, you must destroy the germs that cause it—especially those present in fermenting food particles, ordinary mouth irritations, coated tongue. Do not depend on covering up breath odors with the odor of a mouth wash.

A radical new antiseptic discovery

Modern research laboratories have thrown away the old ideas on killing germs.

Now there's a revolutionary antiseptic on the market—Pepsodent Antiseptic. Its formula is a radical advance. It climaxes the best antiseptic study of 50 years. A germ-killing agent is employed unlike those now in use. It makes Pepsodent Antiseptic from 3 to 11 times more powerful in killing germs than other leading mouth antiseptics, depending on which one you use.

Kills germs in 10 seconds diluted with 2 parts of water

That is the startling news in this new discovery. Think! You can mix Pepsodent Antiseptic with 1 or even 2 parts of water, to suit your taste, and it still kills germs in less than 10 seconds. That's where most other leading mouth antiseptics fail. Yet in spite of all that power, Pepsodent Antiseptic is utterly safe when used full strength. What a weapon this new antiseptic is in fighting bad breath!

SORE THROAT COLDS.

Pepsodent Antiseptic does double duty when fighting bad breath. For at the same time it combats colds and throat irritations. Remember P. A. is 3 to 11 times more powerful in killing germs than other leading mouth antiseptics... and it kills germs when diluted.

New security against bad breath (Halitosis)

Pepsodent Antiseptic checks bad breath 1 to 2 hours longer! That's Pepsodent Antiseptic's record in fighting this widespread social offense due to unhygienic mouth conditions. Immediately after use, 95% of germs on mouth surfaces are destroyed. Two hours later the number of germs is still reduced by 80%. That is far longer acting than other leading mouth antiseptics. And remember when you use Pepsodent Antiseptic to check bad breath you are doing double duty by also fighting colds.

$3 worth for $1—regardless of size

To kill germs—most mouth antiseptics must be used full strength. So to mix such antiseptics with water is a waste of money. Contrariwise, Pepsodent Antiseptic can be mixed with twice its own volume of water. Thus Pepsodent Antiseptic goes 3 times as far—saves you $2 for every $1 you spend. Pepsodent Antiseptic comes in 3 sizes: 3 ounces for 25 cents—7 ounces for 50 cents—16 ounces for $1. The larger the size, the more for your money.

Checking bad breath and combating colds are only two uses for this remarkable antiseptic. There are scores of other uses. Some are listed on this page. Learn to rely on Pepsodent Antiseptic whenever a safe, effective germ-killing agent is required. Keep it in the home. Take it with you when you travel.

Again we say: Quit being good to germs. They've laughed at you long enough. Play safe. Buy an antiseptic that really kills germs when diluted. Remember: You can fool yourself but you can't fool bad breath.

Some of the 50 different uses for this modern antiseptic

Cold in Head	After Shaving
Throat Irritations	Minor Cuts
Voice Hoarseness	Blisters
Bad Breath	Loose Dandruff
Cold Sores	Checks Under-Arm
Canker Sores	Perspiration
Mouth Irritations	Tired, Aching Feet
After Extractions

WAS SUNK PURPOSELYCoast Guard Boat Commander Testifies It Was Accident—
Report to British Embassy.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—Boatswain
M. D. Jester, commander of the Coast Guard patrol boat Harriet Lane, which rammed and sank the Canadian power boat Sophie E., alleged rum runner, 19 miles off Gloucester, today said the sinking was accidental. Jester testified before a Coast Guard board of inquiry. Members of his crew corroborated his statements.Capt. James Bellman, master of the Sophie E., who charged that the sinking of his craft Monday night was deliberate, did not ap-pear at the hearing nor was he represented by counsel.
Matthew F. McGrath, counsel for Bellman, said later that the board, being composed of Coast Guard officers, was not an unbiased body and that, instead of giving his version of the sinking to that board, Bellman's testimony would be forwarded to the British Embassy at Washington for any action deemed advisable.Boatswain Jester testified that both his boat and the Bellman craft were without running lights.
He had noticed signal lights flashing from the Sophie E. prior to the collision, he said. These lights were alleged to have been signals to boats inshore to go out to the Sophie E. to receive her liquor cargo.Jester denied he had threatened to sink the Sophie E. if his craft ever came upon her at sea, a charge which Capt. Bellman made yesterday.After detecting the flashing lights on the Sophie E., Jester said,he lost them in the darkness. As a precaution, he testified, he changed the course of his craft.
Soon, however, he said, the Canadian boat loomed up and, when he realized a collision could not be averted, he had the engines reversed full speed, and threw the wheel hard over to change the course of his craft.After the collision, Jester said, Capt. Bellman appeared in the pilot house door of his craft and shouted, "Well, you finally got her."Jester said he did not reply but proceeded with the rescue of the crew of the disabled boat. When it became apparent, he said, that the Sophie E. would be a menace to navigation, he ordered her sunk by gunfire.The Sophie E. had cleared from St. Pierre, Miquelon, for "The High Seas" and "Nassau," Oct. 29, and arrived off Cape Ann Sunday.The Canadian craft had been reported off the New England coast off and on since May, 1930.
Coast Guard vessels often trailed her but never found themselves in a position to take action against her. Monday, Coast Guard officials said, 20 service vessels went out on patrol after information had been received that an effort was to be made by liquor runners to make several large landings during the night. The Harriet Lane was one of these craft and was reported to have picketed the Sophie E. for four hours before the collision. After the collision, the Canadian boat remained afloat three hours. The members of the Sophie E.'s crew, except one are Newfoundlanders. One is a Nova Scotian.Bedroom SetsStamped on lovely oyster-color

Special Gifts Committee Reports Donations of $22,- 200 After Day's Work— 115 Parishes Heard From.

Contributions to the emergency charity fund of Archbishop Glennon reported to headquarters at noon today totaled $163,002. Of this, the Special Gifts Committee had reported $22,200. The balance came from 115 of the 125 parishes in St. Louis and the county where about 52 per cent of prospective contributors have been solicited. No reports have been received from 10 parishes.

Archbishop Glennon said the results so far have been gratifying. "They show," he said, "that people who are able to give want to help in a Christ-like spirit, their less fortunate neighbors, realizing that the commandment of charity is super-seeded only by the great commandment—love of God."

Many Special Gifts.
The fund is being sought this week by 12,000 volunteers in a house-to-house canvass of the city and county. It is to be spent through 42 Catholic charities which help the unfortunate regardless of religious affiliations. No goal has been set.

The Rev. John J. Butler, director general of the campaign, expressed surprise at the number of special gifts. This committee, which is seeking large contributions from industries and wealthy individuals, did not begin its work until Monday night.

Mrs. Birch O. Mahaffey, speaking yesterday in the interest of the campaign over radio station WEW, described the work of the Helpers of the Holy Souls, one of the charities which is to receive help from the fund. She related one case which had come to her personal attention, where a mother and her daughter, both fatally ill and without funds, were cared for in their own home for about a year, by a member of the religious order.

Visited Home Twice a Day.
She visited the home twice a day to prepare food brought with her, clean the house and minister to their needs. Months later, when they died, the sister saw to it that they had a Christian burial. "If this be the sort of charity which appeals to you," Mrs. Mahaffey said, "it is your privilege to sustain it by a prompt donation to Archbishop Glennon's emergency charity fund."

Twenty-three parishes have reported contributions of $1000 or more. They are: The American Cathedral of St. Louis, $18,212; Holy Family, $1315; Immaculate Conception (St. Louis), $1817; Blessed Sacrament, $3800; Our Lady of Perpetual Help, $1000; Our Lady of Sorrows, $1287; St. Anthony, $1627; St. Augustine, $1487; St. Cecilia, $1005; St. Edward, $1344; St. Engelbert, $1000; St. Francis de Sales, $1614; St. James, $1175; St. Margaret, $3422; St. Mark, $1638; St. Mary Magdalene, $2023; St. Paul, $1425; St. Rose, $2030; St. Roch, $3096; St. Theresa, $1205; Christ the King, $1306; Our Lady of Lourdes, $8901, and Holy Redeemer, $1908.

RAILROAD WAGE CONFERENCE

Executives Turn Over Proposal to "Proper Officials."

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—The American Association of Railway Executives has passed along to the "proper officials" the proposal of Railway Labor Executives Association for a conference on employment stabilization and wages.

R. H. Ashton, chairman, in a telegram to labor officials, said: "The association of railway executives has no jurisdiction over these questions, but realizes its responsibility in assisting to promote general welfare and aid in restoration of prosperity."

HOUSE TO INVESTIGATE AIR MAIL CONTRACTS

Arrangements With Ship Lines
Also to Be Taken Up by Committee.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The administration of the $56,000,000 ocean and air mail funds and contracts will be investigated by the House Appropriations Committee in December.

This announcement by Representative Wood, chairman of the committee in the last session, was met by a Postoffice Department statement that the inquiry would be welcomed.

Wood said numerous complaints had been received from air and steamship line operators about the methods by which contracts had been awarded.

Arch J. Coleman, acting Postmaster-General, said the administration of the air and ocean mail contracts had been based strictly on law.

"If there is anything wrong with it," he added, "it is with the laws and not with the administration. Postmaster-General Brown will gladly furnish any information which the congressional committee may desire."

Although Postmaster-General Brown has charge of the contracts and funds, the direct supervision of the funds comes under W. Irving Glover, second assistant Postmaster-General.

Last year ocean mail appropriations amounted to $36,000,000, of which $7,000,000 was for foreign ocean airmail. Under the recently enacted Waters act, the domestic airmail subvention is $20,000,000 annually.

The Shipping Board certifies to the Postmaster-General lines entitled to seek ocean airmail contracts.

Shipping Board Commissioners, Postmaster-General Brown and air and steamship line operators will be called before the Appropriations Committee.

$5,000,000 MISSOURI ROAD BONDS SOLD FOR $4,757,000
Price of $5.14 on $100 One of Lowest Ever Bld; Guaranty Co. of New York Purchases.

By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 4.—A $5,000,000 issue of Missouri road bonds, bearing 4 per cent interest, was sold for $4,757,000 yesterday by the State Board of Fund Commissioners. The sale was on a bid of $5.14 for each $100. The successful bidders were headed by the Guaranty Co. of New York, comprising 14 security companies. Including the sale yesterday the board has sold $42,500,000 worth of the $75,000,000 road bond issue voted in 1928. One other bid of $5.07 was submitted.

The price yesterday was one of the lowest on record for Missouri road bonds. A sale last month of $5,000,000, bearing 3 1/2 per cent interest was postponed because of the poor condition of the bond market at that time. Under the Missouri laws the State road bonds can not be sold at less than 95.

SPECIAL OFFICER WHO MADE DRY ARRESTS IS SET FREE

Deputy Game and Fish Warden Cleared of Charge He Impersonated Policeman.

William A. Allmeroth, 4227 Gannett street, a special Deputy Game and Fish Warden, was freed in Judge Butler's Court of Criminal Correction yesterday of a charge of impersonating a policeman in the arrest of two men Oct. 19 on charges of violating the liquor laws.

Allmeroth said he took the men to a police station after he had seen a small child in their custody when they seemed to be intoxicated. A bottle which he took from them, it was shown later, contained water. The men, John J. Lavin, 1432 North Garrison avenue, and Fayette Bryan, a Negro, 3655 Easton avenue, quoted Allmeroth as saying: "I'm the law."

CITY SEEKS POWER RATE CUT BUT FORGETS TO PAY OWN BILL

As a Result Borger (Tex.) Officials Discuss Next Move in Darkness.

By the Associated Press.
BORGER, Tex., Nov. 4.—The city of Borger neglected to pay a $18,000 utilities bill of two years' standing before it launched an attack on prevailing service rates.

Last night the commissioners of this West Texas oil town met by lamplight about an oil stove in the City Hall to discuss things. The streets were dark. The city jail, without water, lights or fuel, was emptied of its prisoners.

Borger was cut off Monday by the Panhandle Power and Light Co., which cited nonpayment of the bill. The company said the city could have water for the fire hydrants and power for the fire siren, but for nothing else.

Homes for Papal Delegation.
By the Associated Press.
BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 4.—Plans for the $400,000 Washington residence of the papal delegation will be submitted to the Building Committee headed by Archbishop Michael J. Curley of the Archdiocese of Baltimore and to the board of trustees next Wednesday. It was announced here yesterday. The plans will be presented at the annual meeting of the American Hierarchy to be held at the Catholic University of America in Washington by Fred V. Murphy, architect.

EVIDENCE OF MAYAN CULTURE IN 600 B. C.

Carnegie Scientists Convinced Race Was First to Inhabit Central America.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. — Evidence that the Mayas, remains of whose cities now are buried in Central American jungles, were the first people ever to live in that region has been discovered by the Carnegie Institution of Washington.
Oliver Ricketson Jr., archeologist of the institution, reported his expedition had dug down to bed rock on the site of Uaxactun, an ancient Maya city in Guatemala, and had found Maya relics at the deepest levels. This indicates, he said, that that part of the world must have been uninhabited before the Mayas arrived about 600 years before Christ. They probably came from the North, after crossing from Asia
by way of Bering Strait.

The Mayas built giant pyramids and other structures and developed a civilization comparable to that of ancient Egypt.

Digging below the floor of the plaza of Uaxactun, the scientists found a series of six pavements.
Below the lowest was a refuse heap of some ancient Maya household.
In it were crude bone implements such as needles, made with shell tools, large red pottery, small polished black clay pots, and small clay human figures. These articles, Ricketson said, were made by the Mayas.

Uaxactun is the site of one of the many ruined Mayan cities scattered through the jungles of Guatemala and Yucatan.

Pyramids and other large buildings were erected around a central square or plaza on a hill top.
Houses of the common people, each with a plot of ground for growing crops, surrounded the civic center.

The Mayas developed their own calendar and left dates carved on buildings which scientists can read.
The earliest recorded date found in America is carved on a ruin at Uaxactun—68 A. D. The latest date found there is 639 A. D., said Ricketson.

The excavations down to bed rock indicate, he explained, that the site was occupied at least 500 years before 68 A. D., so that the Mayas certainly lived at Uaxactun for more than 1000 years.

HOLDUP MAN GETS 12 YEARS

AND COMPANION 8 YEARS Pair Found Guilty of Three Charges of Robbery and One of Assault to Kill.

Walter C. Sharp, 6709 Arsenal street, and Sam Guerriola, 1914 Mackland avenue, pleaded guilty yesterday to three charges of robbery and one charge of assault to kill. Sharp, who carried a revolver in each instance, received four 12-year sentences, to run concurrently, and Guerriola, who was unarmed, eight years in the penitentiary on each charge, the sentences to be concurrent.

The assault charge grew out of an attempted holdup of Abraham Amless, 2116 A. Kookuk street, in the rear of his home last July 29.
Amless was shot in the abdomen
but later recovered.

The other charges were based on holdups in Forest Park during the month of July, in which the two took small amounts of money from persons sitting in parked cars.

Fireman Killed in Detroit Blaze.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 4.—One fireman was killed when fighting a fire in a dry goods store in the suburb of Hamtramck last night.
Wallace Granski, one of the first firemen to enter the building, became confused in the dense smoke and called for help. Fireman Steve Nawrocki went in after him and was himself overcome. Lieut.
Henry Gallinski finally dragged the two men from the building.
Granski died in Hamtramck Gen-

FORMER HEAD OF 12 BANKS SAYS HE IS WITHOUT FUNDS

John Bain Sr., Chicago, Thinks All Depositors in Defunct Concerns Will Be Repaid.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—John Bain Sr., South Park Commissioner and head of 12 community banks which failed last June, testified yesterday that he was without funds.

He told Judge Michael Feinberg, who is conducting a search for possible "hidden assets" of the bank, that all his assets, except an automobile and his equity in his $75,000 home, had been turned over to creditors. He added that even his home was mortgaged for $25,000.

Bain admitted that industrial and real estate concerns owned by himself and his two sons owe the banks about $50,000. He replied, "yes," when asked if he borrowed $25,000 on his unsecured notes from the banks a short time before they closed.

Closing of the Bain banks tied up about $13,000,000 in deposits. Bain repeated again his confidence that "every depositor will be paid every dollar." The banker went to the court room from a hospital, where he is resting preparatory to an operation.

Former Premier Accused in Chile.

By the Associated Press.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 4.—The Senate yesterday approved the Chamber's denunciation of former Premier Carlos Castro Ruiz, charged with violations of the Constitution, and he now is liable to civil and criminal action in the courts. Castro Ruiz served under former President Carlos Ibanez.

TWO ACCUSED IN GRAND BANK THEFT GIVE BOND

Henry Farrar and Nephew, John Luger, He Named as Leader of Gang Freed Under $25,000 Bail.

Henry Farrar, who told a disgraced detective he was the "look-out" for the robbers who stole nearly $100,000 from the Grand National Bank safety deposit boxes May 25, 1930, and his nephew, John Luger, a Cuckoo gangster, named by Farrar as a leader of the robbers, are at liberty on $25,000 bond each.

So far as can be learned from the police and the Circuit Attorney's office, Farrar has not repeated to the police any essential part of the story of the robbery, which he told to a visiting detective, whom he supposed to be a bond thief, and with whom he talked in the detective's room at Hotel Jefferson last Saturday night, while two police officers and a police stenographer, in the next room, were listening to the conversation by means of a dictograph.

Luger has made no admissions to the police, and has made a general denial of any knowledge of the robbery. Farrar was in custody from Sunday until last evening, and Luger, released before his uncle, was arrested Monday.

Circuit Attorney Satisfied.

Bonds for the release of the prisoners were signed by William Nelson, with John J. Reagan as co-signer of Farrar's bond, and Jack Keegan signing for Luger. The bonds were approved by Circuit Judge Weinberger, and the amount was satisfactory to Circuit Attorney Miller. They are returnable Nov. 17.

As has been told, the fact that Farrar had said he knew all about the robbery was furnished to Chief of Police Gerk by the Post-Dispatch. Chief Gerk went to another city and brought a detective here. This detective, posing as Paul Gleason of Pittsburgh, Pa., with stolen bonds to dispose of, informed the confidence of Farrar, who talked with him of the Grand Bank robbery.

A part of this story was repeated by Farrar in the hearing of the police officers in the room in the adjoining room. They heard enough to authenticate the report which the detective made regarding the rest of his conversation with Farrar.

As a result of Farrar's story, Luger was brought into the case for the first time, and another man, not previously known in the case, was named and is sought. Farrar also named Henry Bostelman, now under indictment in the case, as one of the robbers. There were two others, Farrar said, but he could not name them.

These two others, police officials surmise from their previous investigation, were Edward (Cocky) Leonard, who is serving a long term in the Colorado State Prison with Bostelman for robbery of a Denver department store, and Wynell Urban, or Urbanak, who is under $25,000 bond on an information issued by the Circuit Attorney.

Value of the Evidence.

Circuit Attorney Miller, who is studying the police records of Farrar's conversation with the detective, said last evening that he was most desirous of getting evidence against Urban, as Bostelman and Leonard are out of his reach, Colorado authorities having refused to relinquish them.

The Circuit Attorney said that the statements of Farrar to the detective, and the dictograph record of his conversation, would be admissible as evidence against Farrar himself, but would not be binding evidence against Luger or anyone else, Farrar, however, would be a competent witness before the grand jury, and could testify against his associates if he should decide to do so.

Urban is an associate of Bostelman. When he was arrested Aug. 3, for questioning in the Grand Bank case, he was wearing a large diamond ring, the stone in which was identified as identical with that in a ring stolen from one of the safe deposit boxes in the robbery. The claimant, Carman Smith, teller at the Grand National, valued the stone at $2500. The police learned that the setting was one which was placed on the market about the time of the bank robbery. Urban's story was that he had owned the ring for more than two years.

The information issued against him charges Urban with kidnapping with a deadly weapon, a capital offense under the Henry law. Besides his $25,000 bond in this case, he is under $10,000 bond as a suspect in another robbery.

HARVESTER PLANTS RESUME

International Workers Pay Cut 10 to 20 Per Cent.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Officers of the International Harvester Co. announced yesterday that the company had resumed active operation Nov. 1 in all its plants in the United States and Canada. By the end of the week several hundred men will be back at work at wages ranging from 10 to 20 per cent under the former rates. Seniority rights, it was said, will be observed in the re-employment and married men will be given preference. The new schedule, increasing the week to four days, will affect 20 plants.

JAPAN TO DEMAND THAT CHINESE OBEY MANCHURIAN PACT

Drafting Note to League in Reply to Briand's Statement About "Five Fundamental Principles."

1915 TREATY ILLEGAL, NANKING CONTENTS

Tokio Troops Move Farther Into Occupied Territory and Encounter Machine Guns in One Instance.

By the Associated Press.

TOKIO, Nov. 4.—While its troops moved farther into Manchuria and encountered Chinese machine guns in one instance, the Japanese Government tonight began drafting a note to the League of Nations insisting that China recognize the validity of treaties under which Japan operates in the Chinese territory.

The Japanese note will be in reply to that of Aristide Briand, acting President of the League Council, setting forth his views regarding the five fundamental principles to which the Tokio Government previously had asked China to subscribe as a prerequisite to the withdrawal of Japanese troops from the Manchurian occupied area.

Tokio will contend that one essential point must be China's recognition of the 1915 treaty under which Japan received certain rights in Chinese territory.

Chinese Charge Duress.
China contends that this treaty, originating out of the "Twenty-one Demands," was signed by the Chinese under duress and therefore illegal. Japan maintains that the treaty is legitimate and binding, and as nearly perfect as numerous others now in effect.

It was understood here that Briand had suggested Japan should agree to the Chinese proposal to refer existing Chinese-Japanese treaties to The Hague for adjudication. This Tokio regards as improper and unfair.

The reply to the Briand note will be in the nature of a restatement of Japan's attitude emphasizing that a fundamental solution of Chinese-Japanese difficulties hinges on Chinese recognition of the 1915 pact.

The note also will say that, unless China recognizes and lives up to the terms of that treaty, normal relations between the two nations cannot be enjoyed.

Regarding the League Council's insistence on withdrawal of Japanese troops from the occupied zones in Manchuria, the Tokio Government holds that unconditional withdrawal would mean a return to the previous unsatisfactory and unsafe status quo and opening of the way for the return of the "irresponsible authority" of Chang Hsueh-liang, Governor of Manchuria under the Chinese regime.

"Troublesome Troops."
Japan believes Chang's return would mean the presence of "troublesome troops," an intolerable prospect from Tokio's point of view.

The Japanese Government is keeping the League informed of all troop movements in Manchuria, particularly outside the Japanese treaty zone of the South Manchurian Railway.

A detachment of Japanese troops advancing to the Nonni River bridge south of Taitshar, strategic city in Northwestern Manchuria, was reported to have encountered machine gun fire from an independent Chinese army commanded by Gen. Mah Chan-shan.

Reports of a clash north of Mukden said it occurred at Tontakou. Advises said 100 Chinese were killed and 200 wounded, while one Japanese was slain. The battle was described as intense and as having lasted six hours.

Situation Is Growing Worse

League Observers Think.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, Nov. 4.—Concern lest Russia step into the Manchurian controversy, coupled with official information that Japanese troops had moved on Taitshar, an important strategic point close to the Russian sphere of influence, darkened the League of Nations' outlook for peacekeeping today. Those in close touch with the Manchurian affair express the opinion that the situation has grown worse during the week.

Dr. Alfred Zse, Chinese spokesman, called at the League secretariat to say his Government feared Japan had no intention of withdrawing its troops. He presented a memorandum setting forth that Japan had been consolidating its positions and extending its sphere of influence instead.

Ten days have elapsed, he pointed out, since the League Council adjourned, setting a time limit (Nov. 1) in the resolution calling for troop withdrawals, and more

THE MODERN COLD TREATMENT

It's goodbye to the old-fashioned notion that a cold should be treated only through the stomach. The modern way is to also attack the trouble direct. Rub Menthohatum on the chest, and the blood is drawn to the surface, relieving congestion and inflammation of deeper organs. Inhale Menthohatum vapors deeply into irritated passages, soothing inflamed membranes and loosening phlegm. Insert Menthohatum in the nostrils to open them and clear your stuffy head. That's the modern way, and a thousand times better than the old. Jars and tubes, 30c. Three times as much, 60c.

RUSSIA IN TRANSITION—No. 22

Soviet Government Allots More Than Two Billion Roubles a Year To Social Insurance for Workers

Fund Covers Sickness, Disability, Old Age, Pregnancy, Etc.—Unemployment Payments Withdrawn Because Not Needed.

By RAYMOND P. BRANDT,

A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1931, by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.)

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., September.

SOVIET RUSSIA "has a plan" for social work as well as for industry, and the leaders boast that when socialistic economy has come into full power the Union will surpass all capitalist countries in the care of citizens. As in other instances, however, the leaders, either deliberately or ignorantly, have overlooked the progress made in other countries in this field.

Much of the social work program is still in the blue print stage. The demands are so vast that present efforts, while a great advance over pre-war inertia, show the more clearly how much remains to be done.

The Government, through its various ramifications, directs all the work. Private individuals and institutions have neither the means nor the authority to enter the field. The church, regardless of denomination, is forbidden to participate. The whole responsibility is on the Government, and hence, on the Communist party.

Appropriations for social insurance covering sickness, disability, unemployment, old age, pregnancy, and the like have been substantially increased annually under the present 5-year plan. This year the appropriation was 2,100,000,000 roubles, an increase of 40 per cent over last year's allotment of 1,500,000,000 roubles. The appropriation in 1929 was 980,000,000 roubles. Critics of the Soviet regime insist that an increase in roubles does not always mean an increase in real value because of the decreasing purchasing power of the rouble.

Special Aid for Mothers.

The social insurance benefits are strictly limited to workers, and since the labor shortage the unemployment payments have been withdrawn. As in capitalist countries the workers, the industries and the Government contribute to the insurance fund.

Women workers are accorded special privileges. The clerical worker is relieved from work six weeks before until six weeks after childbirth and receives full pay. The manual worker is relieved for eight weeks before and after the birth. The mother receives free medical attention and sufficient cash for a layette. For nine months after the birth of the child the working mother receives an additional 25 per cent in salary. Now that most of the industrial workers are paid by the piece system, the working mother's average compensation for the previous three months is used in calculating the childbirth payments.

All workers are entitled to free hospitalization and medical treatment, but there is still a woeful lack of doctors, hospitals and medical supplies.

Before the war Russia had only 14,000 doctors or about 1 to every 10,000. The United States had 1 doctor for every 800 inhabitants and England 1 to every 1400. Now Russia has over 22,000 doctors, including 10,000 dentists. Czarist Russia had one hospital bed for every 1180 inhabitants; Soviet Russia has one such bed for every 500 inhabitants.

Many Nurseries.

Before the war there were very few day nurseries. Last year the Union had 107,405 beds in large day nurseries and 750,000 beds in summer day nurseries. The plan for this year calls for 194,000 permanent beds and 1,400,000 summer beds. In addition to the hospitals, day nurseries and clinics, the Russians have developed the "ambulatoria," reviving medical detachments for the isolated regions.

The Russian child, even before are controlled by a "Dem Com," a House Committee, which is responsible to the Government for the upkeep and the collectivist activity in the apartment. The chairman of this committee can be a puny despot or a constructive social force. In a large apartment, the Dem Com can manage a day nursery, a dining room or cafeteria, a library and lectures, debates and entertainments. This, however, is the ideal and is seldom attained.

The Russians are inordinately proud of their accomplishments in social work and building during the past five years, and when one considers what conditions were under the old regime, one finds it easy to sympathize with them. When they talk of having already surpassed other countries one can only point out that they still have much to learn from the United States, Germany, Austria, Norway and Sweden, and urge them not to overlook New Zealand and Australia.

BRITISH NAVY DISMISSES 24

Admiralty Announces Its Action Is Due to Their Attitude on Returning to Port.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Dismissal of 24 men from the British navy for continuing to act in a manner "subversive to discipline" after the recent "strikes" in the Atlantic fleet on protest against pay cuts under the national economy regime was announced by the Admiralty yesterday.

Although the sailors were serving in the Atlantic fleet during the strikes, their dismissal was not based on activities at that time, but was a result of their conduct after vessels of the fleet returned to their home ports, the Admiralty said.

"The First Lord of the Admiralty stated in the House of Commons Sept. 17 that there would be no penalization in respect to the occurrences at Invergordon," said the announcement. "No disciplinary action is therefore being taken in regard to them; but the board of the Admiralty have received information that since the return of the Atlantic fleet from Invergordon to home ports September last a few men who were serving in that fleet have continued conduct subversive of discipline."

SERIOUS RIOTING IN KASHMIR

16 Slain; British Troops Sent in Answer to Maharajah's Appeal.

By the Associated Press.

NEW DELHI, India, Nov. 4.—Troops were being rushed to Kashmir today to deal with a grave situation there caused by rioting. Sir Hari Singh, Maharajah of Kashmir, appealed for help when his own forces proved inadequate to cope with the situation.

Reports said eight Hindus and eight Moslems had been shot and several houses looted and burned at Jammu when Moslem "Red Shirts" invaded the town.

Tokio's Cigarette Row.

TOKIO, Nov. 4.—The Women's Christian Temperance Union is offering vigorous opposition to the issuance by the Japanese Government Monopoly Bureau of a new type of cigarette prepared especially for women smokers. The bureau, which controls all tobacco dealings in Japan, introduced the new cigarette to offset recent decreases in sales. An average of 23,000,000,000 cigarettes a year is sold by the monopoly.

Crowded Apartment Houses.

The Government expects much of the lesser social work to be centered in the large apartment houses now being built. The present housing situation is absolutely appalling and it will be decades before the workers in Russia will have even adequate quarters. Shortly after the revolution the Government announced that the sanitary minimum of housing space for one person was 86 square feet. This was later reduced to 43 square feet, roughly a space of six by seven feet, about the size of an American closet. This explains much about the mortality rate, both of infants and adults.

The new apartments for a family with two children are usually two rooms and a kitchen. These are a great improvement over old conditions but far from equaling capitalist accommodations. The apartment house of the secret police, the Gay-Pay-Oo, is the best in Moscow and represents the Communist ideal. On one floor is a large dining room; on another is an auditorium, a library, several clubrooms and a gymnasium. The roof can be used for a garden. For every apartment in the Gay-Pay-Oo buildings there are hundreds of single rooms which shelter one or more families. The Government cannot build houses fast enough.

Both the old and new apartments

LYDD GEORGE REFUSES OFFICE IN LIBERAL PARTY

Veteran Leader Holds Aloof; Doesn't Attend Organization Meeting—Sir Herbert Samuel Elected.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—David Lloyd George, for years leader of the Liberal party, announced today that he would not accept any office in the Liberal parliamentary party whose organization meeting was scheduled for this afternoon. He made his statement in a letter to Sir Herbert Samuel, leader of one wing of the old party which broke away from his leadership.

Thus the veteran strategist "goes into the wilderness" with his son, Gwyneth, his daughter, Megan, and Maj. Goronwy Owen, the only old-line Liberals who were winners in the general election. It is assumed the small group will sit on the opposition benches in the new Parliament. The old leader is not even going to attend the party meeting.

In the course of his letter he expressed regret that he could not be present at a gathering of what he described as "only a section of the Liberal members elected to this Parliament."

"As you are aware," he wrote, "I am completely at variance with the disastrous course into which the party recently has been guided. It may therefore cause matters, and at any rate save embarrassment, to my friends, if I write to tell you that I am not a candidate for election to any office in the group."

"I am hoping that by the new year my health will be fully restored," Lloyd George continued, "and I am looking forward then to the pleasure of co-operating with all those who have a heart to the advancement of those ideas to which so many millions rallied hopefully in 1929 (when the Labor party was returned to power)."

"For the moment these causes have been overwhelmed by the calamitous folly of October, and any attempt to revive them will be met for some time with impatience and ridicule."

"That phase will soon pass and all true progressives then can resume the task out of which they were so regrettably manufactured," Sir Herbert Samuel was elected party leader. Sir John Simon was elected yesterday as leader of the so-called National Liberals who go along with the National Government.

GANDHI TO WEAR LOIN CLOTH WHEN HE CALLS ON THE KING

Reminds Questioners That Americans Appear at White House in Usual Clothes.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Mahatma Gandhi today was firm in his decision to wear his loincloth to Buckingham Palace to see the King.

"Would a poor man in the United States change his dress to see President Hoover?" he asked in answer to a question whether, out of deference to King George, he would don trousers, a tail coat and a high hat when the King receives him tomorrow.

When it was suggested that a poor man in the United States might change his clothes to see the President if he had another suit, Gandhi replied: "Well, I'm a poor beggar and I have no clothes except my loincloths, which are all alike."

Asked whether he would walk or ride to the Palace, he said: "If wishes were horses beggars might ride, but I am too poor to afford an automobile."

He was reminded that since he will be an official guest the government would provide him with an automobile. "Well," he said with a chuckle, "It's about time the government gave me something."

President Proclaims Lessons Of Adversity for Thanksgiving

Hoover Says Temporary Setbacks Should Deepen Spiritual Life of People and Strengthen Courage.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—President Hoover has proclaimed Thursday, Nov. 26, a day of national thanksgiving for the advantages enjoyed, despite a "measure of passing adversity."

The presidential proclamation says: "We approach the season when, according to custom dating from our forefathers in the new world, a day is set apart to give thanks, even amid hardships, to Almighty God for our temporal and spiritual blessings. It has become a hallowed tradition for the Chief Magistrate to proclaim annually a national day of thanksgiving."

"Our country has cause for gratitude to the Almighty. We have been widely blessed with abundant harvests. We have been spared from pestilence and calamities. Our institutions have served the people, knowledge has multiplied and our lives are enriched with its application. Education has advanced; the health of our people has increased. We have dwelt in peace with all men. The measure of passing adversity which has come upon us should deepen the spiritual life of the people, quicken their sympathies and spirit of sacrifice for others, and strengthen their courage."

"Many of our neighbors are in need from causes beyond their control and the compassion of the people throughout the nation should so assure their security over this winter that they too may have full cause to participate in this day of gratitude to the Almighty."

"Now, therefore, I, Herbert Hoover, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, Nov. 26, 1931, as a national day of thanksgiving, and do recommend that our people rest from their daily labors and in their homes and accustomed places of worship give devout thanks for the blessings which a merciful Father has bestowed upon us."

FORT MYERS, Fla., Nov. 4.—Congressman Herbert J. Drane has come out of the Florida Everglades bringing with him a collection of pictures and first hand knowledge of the Seminole Indians in their native camps.

At their invitation the Congressman was, for three days, the guest of the once powerful tribe that has never surrendered to the United States. He poked-waded with them around fires, walked swamp trails to visit their villages and quickly exhausted a supply of cigars because the Seminole women as well as the men, like to smoke.

By the Associated Press.
LAREDO, Tex., Nov. 4.—The monthly report of the Mexican Immigration Service at Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, yesterday said 7213 Mexican repatriates from sections of the United States passed through Laredo in a back-to-Mexico movement in October.

Immigration officials estimated the total for the year would aggregate 30,000, or more than 100,000 for all points of entrance on the Mexican border. The heavy movement continued with 125 families, including more than 500 persons due here today from inland Texas.

The answer raises the same question of jurisdiction as was presented in a motion to dismiss the case, which was filed by the Highway Department recently and then was withdrawn last week.

Attorneys for the department said that by the present proceeding the question of jurisdiction will be taken up with the main case and only one appeal will be necessary for final decision.

The case will be heard before Federal Judge A. L. Reeves in February or March.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy, or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

A Lesson From the British.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
Is there not a lesson to be learned by us from the recent British election as to our different structure of national government and our two-party system? At a critical moment in British history, there were prevalent, of course, widely divergent opinions and beliefs held by statements of several political parties as to the proper methods to be taken by the Government to lead the country through the crisis. Under the British Constitution, the leaders immediately went before the voters with their different programs and theories, submitted their arguments and let the public at large be the judge.

Under our system of government, issues of such importance are decided by a government which is in office for four years for better or worse, and a majority of the people, although in disagreement with the conduct of their Government, have to wait for years for this opportunity to record their choice. Even then, they are confronted by only two sets of ideas or doctrines, both of which, at times, fail to represent the sentiments of a majority of the people.

It is noteworthy how splendidly the British citizenry has discharged its duty when we think of the apathy and indifference prevailing at our own elections.

Which, Mr. Editor, in your opinion is the more democratic form of government, and which produces a more intelligent and appreciative electorate?

FRANK WEISHAULT.

Query.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
In more than one editorial recently you have praised Senator Borah for speaking out bluntly and frankly concerning the stupidities and mischiefs of the Treaty of Versailles and of the other treaties emanating from the peace conference held in Paris after the war. How does it happen that this action which you so much praised should be the credit of Senator Borah, one whom you have always represented as being an ignorant, stupid or perhaps wicked man because of his opposition to the League of Nations, the World Court and the peace policies of the late wonderful Wilson?

Why shouldn't this timely and courageous protest against the political atrocities committed by Wilson, Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Orlando emanate from Chief Justice Hughes, ex-Judge Clarke, Elihu Root, John W. Davis, Senator Thomas Walsh or some other exponent of the darling foreign policies of the Post-Dispatch?

RUSSELL WILBUR.

Not Alone.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
HAD SNOW was not alone when he "felt a warm glow of approval" after reading Norman Thomas' complete radio address in the estimable Post-Dispatch. He voiced, I dare say, the opinion of legions who will vote the courage of their convictions.

J. F. M.

Poland's Side of the Corridor Question.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
THAT a fine independent paper like the Post-Dispatch should print everything it can find to uphold Germany's part in the Polish Corridor question and not print a word of the Polish side in rebuttal is discouraging, to say the least, to persons who are fair-minded enough to want to hear both sides of the controversy. How can anyone so easily overlook all that Poland has suffered throughout the long years of the war, while not even a brick was overturned in Germany. To cap everything, Germany has deliberately set out to falsify and slander Poland, and this propaganda the press of America is disseminating without giving the friends of Poland a chance to be heard. All this is painful to anyone with a sense of justice. If you cannot print both sides of the problem, then fair play demands that you refrain from printing anything at all about it.

WALTER A. SADOWSKI.

Would Restrict Downtown Parking.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I HAVE just read your editorial of Oct. 29 on "The Transportation Problem." The proposals made, I believe, are all very commendable.

I think, however, that immediate relief of congestion of traffic in the business district of St. Louis can be had if the business men would see to it that the one-hour parking law is enforced. I am inclined to believe that a very large number of business men and their employees drive their automobiles downtown and park them on the streets all day, thereby crowding out their customers.

I believe it would be greatly to their interest if they would go to their work on street cars or else park their cars in garages or parking lots, thereby leaving the streets open to shoppers.

A 15-minute limit in front of banks and office buildings and a one-hour limit in other business sections would be mutually beneficial.

J. FRED OESTERLE.

THE VICTORIOUS DEMOCRATS.

Following their great gains of last November, when they virtually wiped out a Republican majority of 103 in the lower house of Congress, the Democrats emerged from yesterday's elections with a clear majority and the practical certainty of electing a successor to Speaker Longworth when the new Congress convenes next month.

The result in the Eighth Congressional District of Michigan was symptomatic of the times. The Democrats carried it for the first time since 1898. They have elected a Governor in New Jersey, and for the first time since Mr. Wilson was President they have carried the lower house of the Legislature and possibly the upper. Their chance to capture the next presidential election has been greatly increased. That the tide is running against the Republicans, and has been steadily running against them ever since the business depression set in two years ago, is apparent every time the people go to the polls. The Republicans suffer at such a time for not being able to talk about the only thing they have claimed for themselves for a quarter of a century—that is, that they are responsible for prosperity. The late Senator Morrow said of this that if one claims credit for rain one must also expect to be blamed for drought. The Republicans are being blamed for drought.

That Mr. Hoover's prospect to succeed himself grows almost every day fainter is beyond cavil. The country is witnessing a repetition of what happened during the regime of Mr. Taft. Despite every protest, the Republican Congress of that time passed the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, and Mr. Taft signed it. In the ensuing presidential election, the Republican party divided, with the consequence that Mr. Taft carried only the states of Utah and Vermont. Neither the recent Republican Congress nor Mr. Hoover heeded the warning of what happened then. They put over the Hawley-Smoot tariff, and the President signed it. It was opposed by Democrats and Republicans alike, by all our exporters and by most of our great industrialists. The Wall Street Journal said that if the United States made such a law it would become the gunman of the world. Economists became alarmed by the suicidal tendency at Washington, and 1208 of them signed a protest against the passage of the bill. The inference from yesterday's elections and those of last November is that Mr. Hoover is no better off at the moment than Mr. Taft was after he played the game of the tariff barons.

The test of strength in New York between Gov. Roosevelt and ex-Gov. Smith was resolved in favor of the former, when a constitutional amendment providing for reforestation of abandoned farm lands was approved by the voters. In a statement given out several days ago, Smith sharply criticized the proposal, which involves the expenditure of $19,000,000, as unwise, badly drafted and wholly undesirable, but the amendment was given a large majority. Since Smith's advice on State questions heretofore has been almost always accepted by New York voters, the outcome of this controversy indicates a waning of his political influence. Gov. Roosevelt is apparently the leader of the party in the State, as he is obviously the prospective leader of the party in the nation.

Cleveland, the country's largest city manager municipality, repudiated that system after a test of almost eight years. In three previous referendums on the matter, city manager government had survived by scanty margins, and at this election it lost by nearly 10,000 votes. Here, too, is a Democratic victory, for that party's local organization, together with such civic leaders as Newton D. Baker and Peter Witt, worked against city manager government. It was their contention that the hope of ending machine control of city politics through this method had not been realized in Cleveland, where the Republican machine, led by its boss, Maurice Maschke, had come to dominate the city's affairs.

Another significant result of Tuesday's balloting is that each of the five new Congressmen favors either the repeal or modification of prohibition. In three years, the wet bloc of the House has increased from 70 members to about 150.

TWO TYPES OF EMERGENCIES.

With the annual Red Cross roll call near at hand, it is in order to distinguish between the work of that organization and other agencies which are or will be seeking money for relief purposes. During the year ending June 30, the Red Cross extended disaster aid in all but 10 of the States. In every instance except four—a railroad accident, a mine cave-in, a mine explosion and a typhoid fever epidemic—these disasters were either caused or abetted by the fury of the elements. Tornadoes, floods, forest fires, cloudbursts, storms and the drought required most of the Red Cross' attention. Obviously, emergencies so created are to be differentiated from situations resulting from causes such as technological unemployment. It is no less important to be ready to alleviate immediately the havoc and suffering wrought in the twinkling of an eye by the elements than it is to care for those so unfortunately reduced by the disorders of the economic system.

Then, again, Dr. Starkloff might ask, "what's the Constitution between friends?"

SYNTHETIC RUBBER.

The quest for synthetic rubber has been to the modern chemist somewhat like the search for the philosopher's stone was to the ancient alchemist. Yet scientists have realized that, even if they succeeded in their lengthy researches, there would be little immediate use for the product, the price of natural rubber being what it is today, about 5 cents a pound. No artificial rubber, of the many more or less successful processes announced from time to time, has been able to compete with that low cost. The latest advance in the field, however, as announced to the American Chemical Society this week, offers a product for which the inventors claim wider uses than are possible with natural rubber. The new substance does not deteriorate in the presence of gasoline, opening a new field for use in lining fuel tanks. Since it also resists lubricating oil, it may be used for bearings and other parts of machinery, a use now closed to natural rubber, unless water lubrication is practicable.

The discoverers, F. B. Downing, W. H. Carothers and Ira Williams, do not give the production cost, but it is probably low, since it is made from inexpensive ingredients: acetylene, salt and water. With the enormous acreages of rubber trees being planted by the Ford and Firestone interests, and the widespread salvaging of scrap rubber, it may be expected that the natural product will be cheap for some time to come. However, prices will scarcely remain so low as those resulting from the present overproduction. Whatever its immediate value, it will be of utmost importance to the country if a practicable formula for synthetic rubber has actually been developed. If war creates a scarcity, or tariff intrigue inflates the price, this country will have to depend upon synthetic rubber or a product from the various substitutes, such as goldenrod, in which experimentation has been going forward. A future time may hail the present discovery as of far greater importance than it is regarded at the time of its announcement.

THE SELECTIVE SALES TAX.

The general sales tax proposal, released as a trial balloon several weeks ago, has been pretty thoroughly punctured by public criticism. Now the administration offers another plan—a selective sales tax. This would impose no levy on food, rents, fuel, clothing and such necessities of life, as proposed in the sales tax suggestion, which was widely assailed for that reason. Instead, the selective tax, it is announced, would be laid upon "luxuries and semi-luxuries." The items named as being considered logical sources for additional revenue are automobiles, radios, matches and perhaps cigarettes. Mention of these articles belies the stated purpose of the tax, if we are to be guided by so sound a definition of luxuries as that of the political economist, Richard T. Ely, who held them to be "things which minister to such undesirable wants as love of display, vanity or selfish desire."

Matches are assuredly a necessity, for they are used by almost every family in the land. Cigarettes already are heavily taxed; they contributed $359,881,000 to the Federal Treasury last year. Automobiles are included because they are said to use highways built at public expense without proportional payment of taxes. On the contrary, automobiles are among the most heavily taxed of properties. In St. Louis, for instance, they are subject to State and city license fees, State and city gasoline taxes and property tax. All these may total more annually than the value of the car. The radio, strictly speaking, may not be a necessity, but its wide use among the mass of the people and its importance as an amusement factor have given it high usefulness.

The special taxes of war time are cited as precedent for such a measure. Conditions were vastly different in those days, however. Demand exceeded supply; money was quickly and easily to be made; it was advisable to check the sale of non-essentials in order to center all energies on war activities. Now, however, we are seeking to stimulate consumption, not to hold it down, which taxing it certainly would do. Even were this tax proposed for purely luxury items, there would be a question as to its wisdom just now. Labor must be employed to make such articles, and activity in the luxury market would provide some, though perhaps minor, relief to unemployment.

The entire scheme is sound economics in reverse, evading, as it does, the logical means of meeting the expected $1,500,000,000 Treasury deficit. Excess earnings should be tapped at the source, not when they are being used to stimulate consumption and helping to relieve the market deadlock. If the administration's experts require war-time precedents, let them look to the surtaxes imposed on incomes in those days. They should consider also the matters of gift taxes and higher inheritance levies. Any check upon consumption is most unwise in such times as these.

THE HILLCROFTERS.

Of organizations there is no end, but room always exists for another with the will to do a needed work. Friday and Saturday such an organization—one committed to the preservation of Ozark beauty—will be formed at Eminence, Mo., under the leadership of O. E. Rayburn, publisher of the Arcadian Magazine. The poet in Mr. Rayburn has led him to propose the enchanting name of the Hillcrofters and to announce to all interested that the first gathering will be held during the moon of painted leaves. But, justifiable as it would be on such a day as today merely to join hands under such a name on an Ozark hill dressed out in its autumn coat of many colors, those who become Hillcrofters will embark on an undertaking of outstanding practical possibilities.

Dedicated to a belief that the old aspects of hill life which are valuable can be retained as the newer ways are adopted, the Hillcrofters will endeavor to preserve Ozark wild life and natural grandeur through co-operation with State agencies and officials. They know industry will enter the hills in time, and are going to strive to see that, when it does, it suits itself to the surroundings. Another work will be the systematic collection of hill lore and folk songs, dance calls, legends, traditions, customs and institutions. Other worthy tasks will present themselves.

The Hillcrofters can be of service, both social and esthetic, to Missouri. As an early American Hillcrofter, Rip Van Winkle, once said: "May they live long and prosper."

A VENAL PRESS.

"Where the press is free, and every man able to read, all is safe," said Thomas Jefferson. In France, according to Robert Dell, writing in Current History, the press is not free. The Parisian press is notoriously venal. He charges that "the majority of papers in Paris are subsidized by the French Government" and that "foreign sources of corruption are much more numerous than before the war." This explains, says Mr. Dell, "why French people nearly all think alike about international questions; why they are subject to periodic fits of hysteria; why they are suspicious and jealous of nearly all other countries; why, although the majority of them hate war and desire peace, they allow their Government to be the chief obstacle in Europe to any genuine measure of disarmament and to pursue a policy of domination."

Mr. Dell's indictment of the Paris press is a sweeping one, yet no one at all acquainted with journalism as it is practiced in that city can wholly disagree with him. Of the swarms of daily newspapers printed there, it is impossible to find one which reports fully and impartially the news of the world. Much of the news goes to the reader in the form of news editorials, that is, news colored with an editorial interpretation. Paris newspapers are in effect administration handouts, political handbills and party organs rather than disseminators of important happenings, objectively recorded. Their effect upon the public mind is an interesting object lesson of the need for untrammeled journalism.

Nobody can tell the Capone brothers that the depression is ending. They know it's just starting.

MORE ELECTIONS!

Judge Seabury as Presidential Timber

Leader of inquiry into Tammany corruption is urged by independent Democrats for presidential nomination; plus renown he has won in present fight, he has a long record of public service and liberal views; advocates state sovereignty and strict public control of utilities; stands for precedence of human rights over property.

—Walter Chambers in the Forum.

THE Democratic party needs a battle cry. A battle cry and a colorful leader, with a personality and a record of achievement that will inspire universal confidence. Nothing is more marked at the present time than the lack of faith of the American people in their Government. The current exposure of corruption in New York City has centered attention on a man who, his sponsors for the Democratic nomination believe, can regenerate faith in our form of government on a national scale as he already has largely done in New York; who combines the virtues of Franklin Roosevelt, Newton D. Baker, Owen Young, Albert Ritchie and Alfred E. Smith, and in addition provides sufficient inspiration to catch the imagination of the people; whose long record of opposition to special privilege has given evidence of his consistent belief in human rights as opposed to property rights in the administration of justice; who never has supported Tammany Hall, but whose popularity with the people has three times forced the New York City Democratic machine to support him for high office.

That man is Samuel Seabury, counsel to the joint legislative committee investigating the governance of the City of New York. He is a former Justice of the Supreme Court of New York State, a former Judge of the Court of Appeals, the State's court of last resort, and in 1916 he was the Democratic candidate for Governor. He was defeated because of Tammany's hatred for him as well as for President Wilson, whose first administration he forced the organization publicly to endorse.

Judge Seabury emerged a year ago from the retirement into which Tammany's treachery sent him in 1916, to attain in seven months a position without parallel in the history of American politics. As referee of the appellate division inquiry into the Magistrates' courts, his exposures shocked an indifferent New York public as it never has been shocked before. He then was appointed by Gov. Roosevelt to investigate charges of misfeasance against District Attorney Thomas C. Train. Before that was completed, the Legislature passed a resolution for a city-wide investigation on the promise of legislative leaders that Judge Seabury would be named counsel to the committee. He thus became clothed with the power of the judicial, the executive and the legislative branches of the State Government.

His consistent victories in every court action by which Tammany sought to oppose the progress of his investigations has caused a halo of inviolability to grow up in New York about Judge Seabury. To the citizens of the community, he is the moral arbiter in the fight against corruption. The independent Democrats who are now planning to sponsor the presidential nomination are convinced he will add immeasurably to the party's chance for success.

The men in control of the State and National Democratic committees have demonstrated a studied indifference toward Judge Seabury. But from leaders in the party throughout the nation, as well as from independents in New York, have come warm praise and assurances of support. This group has been assured of ample financial assistance by millionaires reputed to be genuinely interested in the honest administration of government.

Judge Seabury received a unique compliment in the 1916 race for the governorship. Every labor organization in the State endorsed his candidacy and sent their own leaders out to encourage voters to support him. This was evidence of a hold upon the public which comes in part from his "writing into the law," while a member of the judiciary—and in his public pronouncements since—the principle of human rights above property. He assailed the abuse of the injunction in labor disputes, declaring it to be a confiscation of the individual's right to trial by jury and a usurpation by the courts of equity of the functions of courts of criminal jurisdiction.

That "liberty of contract," which reactionary Judges of the Court of Appeals had prevented labor and social legislation, such as regulating the hours of women and children in industry, Judge Seabury declared more antiquated than Columbus. Tracing the history of the word "liberty" as used in the Constitution of the United States, he averred that it meant only bodily liberty; that, realizing this, "liberty of the press," "freedom of speech" and "freedom of assembly" had been specifically inserted in the Constitution by the founders of the republic. His exposition caused the high court, within three months after he had been elected to it, to remove "liberty of contract" from judicial consideration in constitutional law.

In a celebrated case, he upheld the rights of motherhood and ordered the Board of Education to reinstate a woman teacher who had taken an enforced leave of absence for the purpose of bearing a child. Judge Seabury's appeal to the liberal element is enhanced by a decision he rendered almost 25 years ago when, in "Voltaire's," he held in a civil suit that "it is no part of the duty of the Court to exercise a censorship over literary productions unless they plainly violate the criminal law."

Judge Seabury believes that only by holding to the principle of states' rights is there hope for the ultimate success of the American democracy. The Federal principle, he says, is America's contribution to the science of government—"the greatest device by the wit of man"—but that we cannot expect to receive the benefits from it if we continue to employ the Federal Government in the exercise of functions plainly the duty of the state.

Judge Seabury believes that all natural monopolies, such as light, heat, power and transportation, belong to the people, and that while, in the present development of the American code of ethics more efficient

The League and Manchuria

From a Radio Address by James G. M'Donald, Chairman of the Foreign Policy Association.

THOSE who complain because the League of Nations Council was not more strikingly effective in the Manchurian case ignore the enormous difficulties of the task. The situation in Manchuria is of the most complex and involves the vital interests of three great countries. Moreover, the Council, thousands of miles from the scene, could not be certain of all the facts and, in any case, was not in a condition to impose its will. In Japan the military authorities, who are largely independent of the civil Government, and who had initiated the aggressive action in Manchuria, made it impossible for the Japanese Cabinet to yield. Moreover, some of the strongest members of the League, notably Germany and Great Britain, were intensely absorbed with domestic crises. More disavantages still, from the League point of view, neither Soviet Russia nor the United States was a member.

Perhaps the greatest difficulty of all was the novelty of the method of conciliation which the League undertook to use. Of course, small states, like Greece and Bulgaria, had frequently been called before the Council, but never before in the history of the League had a great Power like Japan been asked to defend itself in public on an issue which it regarded as so vital. It requires little imagination to see how difficult it would have been for any Government to have yielded under similar circumstances. Short of a futile gesture or unenforceable threats, the League did all that reasonably could have been expected from it.

NOT SO BAD.

From the De Witt (Mo.) Herald.
In spite of all the general depression, we can say that we had a few good days last week. One day a man came in the office and brought a bushel of fine apples on another day another man brought a half bushel of large sweet potatoes, and on still another day Jacob went across the creek and brought us a perfectly nice new daughter-in-law. So we feel that if we can have a good week like this occasionally, we will be able to get through the winter in fairly good shape.

management will result from private contract, the rights of the people must be carefully safeguarded through strict public regulation. In politics, he regards himself as a Progressive Democrat. He has, however, invariably placed his political ideals first and has promoted whatever political movement seemed suited at the time to carry out those ideals.

Naturally Judge Seabury's friends neither expect, nor want, the support of the Tammany delegation at the Democratic convention. But it will serve him nevertheless, by its opposition to Gov. Roosevelt. For the Seabury nomination depends on Gov. Roosevelt's failure to get it on the first ballot. That, of course, is also true of other candidates. If a deadlock should occur, Judge Seabury's friends are convinced that he would quickly become the most formidable candidate. About his record in the fight for social justice, the masses could be counted on to rally; his Protestant ecclesiastical ancestry and his career, much of it spent in combating corruption in government, would bring the support of that vast horde of voters who reside in what Mencken terms "the Bible Belt," while the positiveness with which he engages in controversy would make the present incumbent, the probable Republican candidate, innocuous by comparison.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

THE Colonial home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. White, 325 West 10th avenue, furnished with antiques, brought with them from Little Rock, Ark., when they moved here several years ago, will be the scene of the debut tea this afternoon of their daughter, Miss Elise Conway White. Several hundred guests, who have been invited from 4 to 6 o'clock, will greet their hostess and the debutante in the living room before the high Colonial mantel banked with Joanna Hill roses, pink dahlias and greenery. More of the pink blossoms are used in decorations in the other reception rooms.

Miss White will wear white chiffon, heavily embroidered in crystal and combined with tulle. The upper part of the gown is designed in tulle effect, close fitting from a square neck line and scalloped at the knees, where fullness is introduced by many layers of white tulle. There are crystal shoulder straps. The debutante will carry an old fashioned round bouquet of pink roses, violets and delphinium, bordered with a lace frill. Mrs. White's gown is of turquoise blue satin, made in the prevailing princess mode. She will wear a corsage of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Tailor-made roses, shading from yellow to blue, are arranged in a pedestal bowl as the central decoration for the tea table in the dining room, which will be lighted by candles to harmonize with the flowers.

The young women who will serve are: Miss Ann Ferriss, Miss Helen and Miss Margaret Hemingway, Miss Joan Pangman, Miss Marie Ball, Miss Mary C. Day, Miss Marion Peters, Miss Mary D. Shipley, Miss Virginia Cave, Miss Jacquelin Chapman, Miss Eleanor Task, Miss Helen D'Arcy and her guest, Miss Dwen Kearney, and Miss Marjorie Capen. Mrs. White has invited Mrs. W. Linn Hemingway, Mrs. Robert O. Kennard Jr., Mrs. Norman L. Lincoln and Mrs. E. J. H. Bennett, to assist.

After the tea Mr. and Mrs. White will give a buffet supper for their daughter, at which the guests will include the young women serving, and Miss Melissa McKay, Miss Louise Goddard, Miss Sara Taylor, Miss Mariap Foley, Miss Eleanor Conant, Miss Caroline Simpson, Miss Marjorie McKittick and Miss Ellen Walsh and their escorts.

The debutante is the great-granddaughter of James Sevier Conway, first Governor of Arkansas, and a great-great-granddaughter of William Savin Fulton, the first United States Senator from Arkansas. Her mother was Elise Conway. She is a great-niece of Mrs. J. C. Marshall Schirk of Boston and Mrs. Pope Yeatman of Philadelphia, both of whom have visited in St. Louis frequently.

Miss White is a graduate of Mary Institute and the Finch School in New York, and traveled abroad last year accompanied by Mrs. Atwell T. Lincoln.

Two attractive luncheons, one for the debutantes, occupied important places on the social program for today. Mrs. William N. Claggett and her niece, Miss Eleanor Pendleton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Baylor Pendleton, entertained a group of the season's brides at a luncheon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claggett, 5115 Lindell boulevard, in honor of Miss Helen Hemingway, daughter of Kriegshauser, 7116 Forsythe boulevard, took place this morning at 10:30 o'clock at St. Rose's Church, the Rev. J. J. McGlynn officiating. The sanctuary of the church was elaborately decorated with great baskets of white giant chrysanthemums against palms and ferns interspersed with tall cathedral candles. Easter lilies adorned the altar which was lighted by white tapers. Two more baskets of the white chrysanthemums were inside the altar railing and the pews were alternately marked by bouquets of these blossoms tied with white satin ribbon.

Miss Eleanor Lynch was maid of honor for her sister, and Miss Imelda Kriegshauser, sister of the bridegroom and Mrs. Edwin W. Buchanan were bridesmaids. Mr. Kriegshauser's brother, Lawrence Kriegshauser was best man and the groomsmen were Mack Aldrich, Edwin W. Buchanan, Harold Fischer and C. Wilfred Buchanan.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of ivory toned satin, the bodice fashioned with a yoke of rose point lace. There were long sleeves of satin edged with the lace, and the skirt fitted to the knees swept into a long train, lined with flesh chiffon. Her tulle veil was arranged from a cap of rose point lace held in place by orange blossoms at the back of the head. She carried white orchids and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor wore orchid taffeta. The gown had a round neckline and short sleeves. The skirt fitted to the knees flared to the floor. Double box pleated ruching of the taffeta edged the skirt and the sleeves and a garland of French velvet flowers extended from the left side of the skirt to a low placed waistline in the back. Her hat was of purple velvet trimmed in orchid and purple velvet flowers.

Bridge was played during the afternoon.

The guests were Miss Louise Canon, Miss Stella Switzer, Mrs. Claude R. Wood, who was Miss Highland Mary Mosby; Miss Virginia and Miss Dorothy Zirkelbach, Miss Alice Devoy Heinrichs, Miss Margaret Bokern, Miss Anne Thomson, Mrs. Thomas J. Fricke and Miss Emily Gilham.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Lansing, 5 Wydown terrace, will give a dinner party this evening at their home in honor of Miss Helen D'Arcy, debutante daughter of Mr. and William C. D'Arcy, 6 Hortense place, and Miss D'Arcy's guest, Miss Dwen Kearney of Farmington, Conn.

The guests of honor and a group of the debutantes and their escorts will be at a table seating 20 in the living room. Chrysanthemums in yellow and russet shades will decorate the table which will be lighted by yellow candles in silver candelabra. In addition to Miss D'Arcy and Miss Kearney, the following will be present: Miss Marjorie Capen, Miss Ann Ferriss, Miss Mary C. Day, Miss Caroline Kennard, Miss Caro Holmes, Miss Joan Pangman, Miss Jacquelin Chapman; Herbert Jones, Edward Haverstick, Wallace Tuttle, McMillan Lewis, Jack Kirby, Clifton McMillan, Thomas Noel, Charles Fox, William McChesney and Paul Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. Lansing will entertain Mr. and Mrs. D'Arcy and their guest, Mrs. John Campbell Fraser of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Ley Peterson Rexford and Walter J. Hein, at a smaller table laid in the sun room. This table will be decorated in pink roses and pink candles will furnish the illumination. Bridge will follow dinner.

HONOR GUEST

MISS FANITA FRY.

WHO, with her sister, Miss Isabel Fry, shared honors today at a luncheon given by Mrs. Ralph L. Thompson, 4311 McPherson avenue.

The bridesmaids' frocks were of French blue taffeta designed as that of the maid of honor, with three large blue and purple flowers at the back of the waistline instead of garlanded on the skirt. Their hats were of purple velvet with blue flowers. All carried orchid daisies and blue delphinium tied with orchid ribbon.

Mrs. Lynch was gowned in dark brown velvet with accessories to match and wore orchids and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Kriegshauser wore a golden brown velvet costume and her flowers were gardenias.

A wedding breakfast was served at Hotel Chase in the crystal ballroom, where greenery and white chrysanthemums were used in decoration.

Mr. Kriegshauser gave his bride a diamond and platinum wrist watch and to his groomsmen monogrammed belt buckles. The bride's attendants received walking sticks which opened into umbrellas. Mr. and Mrs. Kriegshauser will sail Saturday from New York for Bermuda and Havana and upon their return in six weeks will live in St. Louis.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Ellen McCarthy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCarthy, 5133 Vernon avenue, to Harry Stevenson Rummell, son of Mrs. M. A. Rummell, Columbia, Mo., will take place Saturday. The ceremony will be performed at 5 p. m. at the home of the bride's parents. The guests are to include only the immediate families, relatives and a few close friends.

Miss McCarthy will have as her maid of honor, Miss Elizabeth Haral. Her bridesmaid will be Miss Frances Rummell of Columbia, a sister of the bridegroom. Charles L. Johnson will serve Mr. Rummell as best man, and the groomsmen will be John McCarthy, the bride's brother.

Several pre-wedding parties have been given for Miss McCarthy. Oct. 22 Miss Dorothy Morton and Mrs. Betty Sheldon Bean were hostesses at a party at a home of Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Sheldon, 5633 Cabanne avenue. Friday afternoon, Oct. 20, Mrs. Clarence Allen Good Jr., 4945 Buckingham court, entertained at tea in honor of the bride-to-be. Miss Elizabeth Haral, 5920 Julian avenue, was hostess at a luncheon Saturday, and Sunday evening Miss Emily Hurd entertained at an informal supper. Following the wedding rehearsal Friday evening the bridal party will be guests at a buffet supper at the bride's home.

The St. Louis Woman's Patriotic Council will give a dinner, followed by cards, in the Food Craft Shop of the Town Club tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock. Mrs. Lee En-the month.

Mr. and Mrs. Clement McCune Brown of Colorado Springs, Colo., arrived in St. Louis yesterday for a brief visit with Mrs. Brown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Griff Glover, 5070 Waterman avenue.

Mrs. Henry S. Priest of St. Louis is the guest of Mrs. George Benjamin Paris. Mrs. Priest is returning to New York the end of the month.

The People of St. Louis Are Entitled to Know

We have been charged by selfish interests and some misguided people with the practice of unfair policies in dealing with the farmers from whom we buy our milk.

You will be interested to know that the sole basis for that charge is that we refused to become a party to a plan to impose upon you, the people of St. Louis, an arbitrary and unreasonable price for the most important item of food you buy—milk.

Is This Policy Unfair? The milk which we sell to you is bought from farmers in the vicinity of St. Louis. We pay for it a higher price than is paid to farmers who produce seventy-five per cent of all the milk produced in the United States—a price at which our producers have all the time been eager to deliver milk to us.

Or Is This Fair?

The Farmers who have succeeded in drawing a ring around certain cities, excluding from these cities all milk outside of the ring, have established a monopoly and imposed arbitrary prices on the people of these cities.

Who Charges Unfairness?

Those who are planning to practice that same imposition on you in St. Louis charge us with unfairness for refusing to join in their plan.

In the full light of these facts, what do you think of the charge that our policy is unfair to farmers? How would you characterize our action toward you—citizens of St. Louis—if we had joined in such a plan—fair or unfair?

ANSWER TO SUIT OVER ROUTE OF SUPER-HIGHWAY

ber by Griffin Watkins of Alton, Ill., owner of property along the route of the proposed highway, in behalf of himself and 71 other affected property owners.

In addition to challenging the jurisdiction of the Federal Court to hear the case, which the department contents should be brought in the State courts, the answer questions the right of Watkins to institute the suit in Federal Court.

Title to Property Questioned.
It states that the 42 acres near Clayton road described in the suit as Watkins' property, was held in the name of his brother, Horton Watkins, until last June 27, when the answer states, a deed was executed by Horton Watkins conveying title to the tract to Griffin Watkins for a consideration of $26,000. This was 18 days after the Highway Commission had approved the Clayton-Conway route for the highway, the answer states.

The answer charges the transfer of title to the tract was not in good faith to transfer actual title and "was made solely for the purpose of attempting to confer jurisdiction of this cause upon this (Federal) Court."

Among other contentions raised in the answer are the following: That the final detailed route had not been worked out, although the general route has been approved and it had not been determined whether the detailed route would cross Griffin's tract.

That the amount that would be in controversy as to Watkins, if the highway crosses the tract, would be less than $3000 the minimum amount required for gain consideration by Federal Court.

That the plaintiffs have an adequate remedy in the State courts.

That the suit involves no cause of action under the Federal laws or constitution and that Federal Court rules had not been complied with through the failure to set out the names of the other petitioners Watkins was said to represent.

That the decision of the commission in selecting the Clayton-Conway route was an exercise of the lawful discretion of the executive branch of the State Government, which could not be questioned or controlled by the Federal Court.

The answer asserts the Highway Commission considered all of the routes suggested for the super highway, and determined the Clayton-Conway route was "superior in all respects" to the other locations.

Engineers Favored Route.

The Clayton-Conway route was recommended by engineers of the Highway Department and the Highway Commission adopted their recommendation. The route was opposed by the St. Louis County Court, the St. Louis City Plan Commission, the St. Louis City Plan Commission and numerous property owners in a highly developed country home section of St. Louis County who would be adversely affected by routing the highway through or near their property.

The answer was filed by John W. Mather, chief counsel of the Highway Department, and Wilkie B. Cunningham and B. F. Boyer, assistants to Mather.

Chief Engineer Cutler of the Highway Department said today that funds would be available whenever it might become possible to build the superhighway, either on the route now designated or some other route. Even if the superhighway scheme should be abandoned, he said—and he does not believe it will be—the funds set aside for traffic relief routes in the vicinity of St. Louis would not be curtailed.

No Federal Aid Money.

The $15,000,000 State road bond issue of 1928 provided that an unspecified portion of this amount should be devoted to traffic relief roads in the St. Louis and Kansas City districts. Cutler recalled that $11,573,300 was pledged for this purpose during the campaign for the bond issue, including more than $7,500,000 for the St. Louis area. In addition, there might be further allotments from general highway funds after 1937, he said. The initial plan for the superhighway calls for an expenditure of $3, 400,000 for construction in a period of three or four years.

No Federal aid money would be available for the superhighway. Cutler said, because it is a local not a national route, coming specifically under the traffic relief item of the constitutional amendment which authorized the bond issue.

The State never buys right-of-way for roads unless counties and local residents fail to provide the land. The State has planned a 200-foot right-of-way for the superhighway, but Cutler declared that if it became necessary to condemn or purchase the right-of-way for this road probably only an 80 or 100-foot strip would be acquired, and the pavement width would be restricted.

than a month has passed since Japan undertook to begin the evacuation.

Dr. Sze said the Nanking Government had confidence the United States and league members would not permit the Kellogg pact, the nine-power treaty and the League covenant to be "trampled under foot."

The memorandum said the Japanese representative at the October meeting of the council announced Japanese troops would not be withdrawn until Japan had negotiated an agreement with China on certain "fundamental principles." Dr. Sze said Japan's attitude violated article 10 of the League covenant and the pact of Paris. He reiterated that China never would agree to negotiate "under pressure of military occupation."

If any action were taken by Russia, it was suggested here, it would alarm Poland and Rumania, Russia's Western neighbors, and increase the difficulty of the peace-makers on the Council. The Council, it was stated, would find it difficult to bring about a concerted move against Japan if Russia's Western neighbors were worried over Soviet participation in the Manchurian conflict.

A possibility of interference with payments on foreign loans was foreseen in Chinese quarters because of reported seizure of the salt tax at Newchang and elsewhere in Manchuria.

Moscow Paper Says Japanese "Invented Fable" About Russia.

By the Associated Press.

MOSCOW, Nov. 4.—The newspaper Izvestia charges that Japanese militarists "invented the fable" of possible Soviet interference in Manchuria in order to cover plans for an extension of their own occupation northward "at least until Nov. 16" when the League of Nations Council meets again.

The militarists hoped, the newspaper says, "to weaken the resistance of other imperialistic powers by the prospect of a conflict with the Soviet Union, a conflict much desired in imperialist circles in Europe."

Declaring Japan's first explanation was that its occupation in Manchuria was made necessary by the threat of danger from Chang Such-liang's soldiers "who became bandits," Izvestia says.

"Such an argument proved quite insufficient, even in the eyes of the League of Nations, and a new one was needed."

"The fable was then invented of a red danger in Manchuria through the interference of Soviet Russia, on the side of China, in the conflict with Japan and, the provocative story of assistance rendered by the Soviets to the troops of the Chinese General Mah was manufactured."

"Witnesses" were mobilized who "saw with their own eyes" how Soviet military instructors, transports and arms were moved to the aid of Gen. Mah.

"It is impossible the Japanese Government could have believed these rumors because it has at its disposal organizations which could have proved their stupidity."

"Notwithstanding the declaration of Acting Commissar for Foreign Affairs Karakhan, which left no doubt of the absurdity of the rumors, they were widely echoed in imperialistic circles and readily accepted and circulated in the press. Le Temps at Paris had the impudence to assert that "Tokio knows well the value of a declaration of the Soviet Government whose whole policy constitutes a continuous negation of the rights of civilized nations."

"Mr. Britton, a member of the American Congress, showed phenomenal impudence by declaring: 'Russia is mobilizing vast military forces while the world is sitting on a volcano.'"

"The Japanese military clique which is preparing an extension of its occupation of Manchuria hoped it could succeed in weakening the resistance of other imperialist Powers by the prospect of a conflict with the Soviet Union, a conflict much desired in imperialist circles in Europe."

"The position is quite clear. Instead of quitting Manchuria, the Japanese military clique is preparing an extension of the occupation toward the north. Seeking an argument to serve at least until Nov. 16, when the League returns to consideration of the Chinese-Japanese conflict, they find one in the fable of Soviet interference and the slander about concentration of Russian troops on the Manchuria frontier."

Let the Western incendiaries continue their work. They will learn in time that who sows the wind will reap the whirlwind."

Prof. H. F. Tyler of Smith Dies.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Nov. 4.—Prof. Henry F. Tyler, 88 years old, first faculty dean of Smith College and for more than 35 years head of its department of Greek, died suddenly last night. At one time he was instructor of Greek and Latin at Knox College at Galesburg, Ill.

At 14, Williams entered a Mid-west stock company which led him to Chicago and Pittsburg and eventually New York.

His first appearance in New York was with Marjorie Rambeau in "Eyes of Youth," and other Broadway successes which lifted him to stardom were "Abie's Irish Rose," "The Trial of Mary Dugan,"

ROBERT WILLIAMS DIES, STAGE AND MOVIE STAR

Succumbs to Peritonitis Following Operation for Removal of Appendix.

By the Associated Press.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Nov. 4.—Robert Williams, noted young stage and movie actor, died in a hospital here last night of peritonitis which set in after rupture of the appendix.

Two operations, one for the removal of the appendix and the other to check the peritonitis, were performed, the second last Sunday night.

Mr. Williams was the husband of Nina Penn, formerly a New York stage player. He had one daughter, Mary Ellen, 9 years old, by his previous marriage to Marion Harris, actress.

Born on a farm near Morganton, N. C., Sept. 15, 1898, Williams at the age of 11 ran away from home to join a tent show. He remained with the tent show until it reached Jackson, Miss., when he joined a showboat on the Mississippi.

At 14, Williams entered a Mid-west stock company which led him to Chicago and Pittsburg and eventually New York.

His first appearance in New York was with Marjorie Rambeau in "Eyes of Youth," and other Broadway successes which lifted him to stardom were "Abie's Irish Rose," "The Trial of Mary Dugan,"

and "Rebound." He had co-starred with Alice Brady, Ann Harding, Hope Williams and Elsie Ferguson. Williams came to Hollywood six months ago to appear in the stage production "Rebound." The movie claimed him to play for their version of "Rebound" and a long time contract as feature player resulted. He subsequently played opposite Constance Bennett.

FUNERAL OF GEORGE H. GROTE

Services Held for Howard Bend Waterworks Superintendent.

The funeral of George H. Grote, superintendent of the Howard Bend station of the St. Louis Water Department, who died Monday from an abscessed lung, was held today from Krieger's chapel, 4223 South Kingshighway, with cremation in Valhalla Crematory.

Mr. Grote, who was 58 years old, began his connection with the Water Department nearly 30 years ago as a machinist at Baden Station. After promotion to engineer he worked at various stations until the Howard Bend plant was established, when he became superintendent, living there in a home built by the city. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Caroline Grote.

Storm Damage in Britain.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Widespread damage to property was done by a gale, the first storm of autumn which has been sweeping the British Isles for the last 24 hours. The gale reached a velocity of 75 miles an hour in some places. The high wind uprooted trees, leveled chimneys, blew down wires and demoralized coastwise shipping. Several districts in Wales were flooded by overflowing rivers.

BOY WHO KILLED ANOTHER IS HELD PENDING INQUEST

Crown Point (Ind.), Youth, 12, Says He Fired Rifle to Frighten Away Tormentors.

CROWN POINT, Ind., Nov. 4.—Wilbur Sherman, 11 years old, accused of shooting a schoolmate to death, was released last night to the custody of his parents, pending an inquest into the death of Harold Seymour, 11, a farm boy, Deputy Prosecutor John Underwood said he thought the shooting was accidental. Young Sherman appears to be a normal boy, he said, and apparently did not intend to injure the other boy.

Sherman's story, as recounted by Sheriff Roy Holly, was that he quarreled with Harold at school, and that Harold and two other boys went to his home to torment him by throwing stones at the windows.

Wilbur and a younger brother, Robert, first attempted to frighten them away with rifles, but were unsuccessful. Wilbur then got his father's high-powered rifle and fired into the air three times.

Seymour and his friends rode away on their bicycles and Wilbur fired three times over their heads to make sure they would not return. Seymour was nearly a quarter mile away, it was said, when he fell from his bicycle, fatally wounded.

SPENDING IS ONE THING SAVING IS ANOTHER THRIFT

IS A COMBINATION OF THE TWO

THERE is a lot of talk about spending more money... There is some talk, in some quarters, about not saving money... But we haven't heard any one say anything against thrift.

We have never advocated saving to the exclusion of all spending, and certainly we have never advocated spending to the exclusion of all saving. Either extreme is economically fatal.

We shall continue to advocate thrift—a combination of wise spending and regular saving.

COURT DENOUNCES USE OF VIOLENCE IN MILK DISPUTE

Judge FitzHenry Makes Permanent Injunction Issued to Protect Pevely Company.

SAYS ITS RIGHTS HAVE BEEN VIOLATED

Declares Present Conditions of "Anarchy and Crime" Are Worse Than in 1922 Railway Strike.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 4.—An injunction to prevent violence against Pevely Dairy Co. property, employees or producers was made permanent yesterday by Federal Judge FitzHenry, with the comment that the property and rights of the Pevely company "have been violated and violated disgracefully."

Issuing his order at the close of two days of testimony, in which 21 witnesses for the dairy had described incidents of violence and 29 officers and members of the striking Sanitary Milk Producers had testified they and the organization had no connection with the outbreaks, Judge FitzHenry instructed Pevely attorneys to prepare citations for each violation of the injunction and pointed out that it was binding on all persons, whether named in it or not.

"We are not going to enter any order here holding that the Pevely company is responsible for this trouble," said Judge FitzHenry, pointing out that testimony differed concerning responsibility for the violence, but there was no question that violence had occurred and might continue. "On the other hand, it would be just as reasonable to say that Mr. Tiedeman (the producer's president) is responsible for all of this trouble himself."

Many of the acts in an "unlimited era of malicious mischief," he remarked, were crimes under Illinois law, such as assault to kill, assault with deadly weapons and the burning of barns, and he emphasized that the State arson law was not subject to the statute of limitations. Denouncing "Anarchy and Crime," "Whoever was connected with the burning of barns is liable to prosecution as long as he lives," continued Judge FitzHenry. Local authorities sometimes fail to do their duties because they need votes to be re-elected. There may be some State's Attorneys in the counties in which this lawlessness occurred who will see fit not to prosecute. But their successors in office may conclude to take their oaths seriously.

"Anyone who has violated the temporary injunction will be cited and punished when the evidence is secured," warned the Court. "The violators may get away for a while, but eventually the punishment will come. Uncle Sam has a long arm and can reach a long way."

"This case has been particularly interesting," Judge FitzHenry remarked. "Of course, the litigants involved in this case don't know it, but during the great railroad strike of 1922 there was more trouble in the central part of Illinois than in any other district of the United States. And in the course of that situation it was our privilege to see the worst that took place in that great railroad strike. And I want to say to you for the benefit of everybody here that in all that era of crime and anarchy there was never a single set of circumstances presented that begins to compare with the anarchy and crime and the deliberateness shown by the record in this case."

Warns Against Mob Rule. Judge FitzHenry, who had expressed gratification that farmers were organizing co-operative associations to improve their condition, repeated that he knew how grave that condition was. "But no matter how serious your situation is," he added, "it does not give you the right to take the law into your own hands."

"You cannot stick a contract under a man's nose and say, 'Sign that or I will blow your brains out' lawfully. Neither can you stick a contract under a corporation secretary's or manager's nose and say, 'Sign that or we will wreck and ruin all your property, and shoot and kill everybody that does business with you.' You cannot do that."

"You can attend to your own business and you must attend to your own business. You don't have to sell your milk to Pevely; you don't have to do that. You may sell it to anybody else if you can find a buyer, and Pevely doesn't have to buy your milk unless it wants to. There isn't any law in this land that compels a man to buy something that somebody else wants to sell."

"As long as you co-operate for a legitimate purpose and pursue legitimate remedies, you will be protected by the Constitution and all the laws of the United States and of the State of Illinois. But whenever it comes to destroying other people's property, you cannot do that and it doesn't make any difference whether it is an automobile truck or a quart of milk."

It is property and there is no distinction between kinds of personal property.

Testimony for the dairy described acts of intimidation or violence beginning with the dumping of two tank trucks of milk Aug. 31 at St. Jacob as farmers left a meeting where the strike against the Pevely company was voted. A Pevely driver declared yesterday on the stand that he was threatened by a man who followed him from the courtroom. The Sanitary Producers attempted to show that violence was provoked by the tactics of the dairy in arming employees and hiring detectives, and presented two witnesses to indicate that a detective posed as a deputy United States marshal at a farmers' meeting.

Arson and Dynamiting. While the case was still in court, August Spiers reported to authorities of Red Bud, Ill., that a truck he used to collect milk for Pevely was destroyed by fire early yesterday on his farm five miles south of Red Bud. Another collector, Sylvester Boyle, of Red Bud, reported the truck damaged $200 by fire.

The first example of dynamiting so far occurred early today at Brighton, in Judge FitzHenry's district, where Eisenberg & Co., milk collectors said to have been shipping to Pevely, reported that a truck was virtually destroyed by an explosion in their garage.

Milk has been dumped, trucks destroyed, barns burned and drivers struck by shots fired from ambush at frequent intervals since the strike began. An injunction has been issued by Federal Judge Davis at St. Louis, and another is pending in the court of Federal Judge Wham at East St. Louis, where a temporary restraining order has been issued.

Hearing on Enforcement of Milk Ordinance Friday. A hearing on enforcement of the Ordinance in the strike of Sanitary Milk Producers against the Pevely Dairy Co. will be held at 7:30 p. m. Friday at City Hall, Chairman A. H. Niederluecke of the Public Welfare Committee announced.

Alderman Niederluecke said today those asked to appear include Health Commissioner Starkloff, President Dan C. Kerckhoff of the dairy, President E. W. Tiedeman and Secretary-Manager A. D. Lynch of the producers, and Mrs. George Gellhorn of the Consumers Milk Commission.

People's Motorbus Co. Reckoned Worth $1,885,400 Against Replacement Value of $2,886,442.

An analysis of the finances of the Louis Public Service Co. and People's Motor Bus Co., in which property value was compared on various bases and results of operations were given, was presented to the Special Transportation Committee of the Board of Aldermen this afternoon by F. C. Price, Waterhouse & Co., public accountants.

The accounting company was retained by the Aldermanic Committee to make the study in connection with its inquiry into the mass transportation problem.

This afternoon's hearing was the third the committee has held this month, under the direction of its special counsel, former Congressman Cleveland A. Newton. At the first hearing advocates of public ownership stated their views and the second, a week ago, the board of directors presented an exhaustive report emphasizing the inadequacy of the present transportation system, to which it attributed many of the city's business ills.

Property Valued at $53,817,466.

Based on actual cost to the present company, the accountants assigned a value of $53,817,466 to the property of the Public Service Co. This was compared with book value of $73,993,025, reproduction cost of $83,976,201, and rate base value of $65,244,154 as fixed by the Public Service Commission. The accounting study took into consideration net property revaluation of $1,220,914 from Dec. 1, 1927, Dec. 31, 1930, but did not undertake to project probable future revaluation due to obsolescence. A market value of $12,094,542 of last Oct. 19 was assigned to the company's outstanding securities representing a funded debt of $5,759,875. This was based on last quotations of sales and in the case of a small issue of real estate mortgage notes not quoted, which face value was assigned.

How the Cost Is Figured.

Actual cost to the present company was computed as follows: Bid price in foreclosure proceedings, accepted by the Court, $12,010,000.

In addition to the Court's opinion required the assumption of certain priorities of costs, expenses, fees, among which were the following:

St. Louis & Suburban Consolidated mortgage, $12,000,000. St. Louis Transit Co. 5 per cent bonds to be paid $300 4d cash and 5 1/2 of preferred stock per $1000 bond, $9,790,000.

Accrued interest, injury and damage claims and other liabilities assumed (not including mill tax), $5,870,223.

On the other hand, the new company received certain U. S. Government bonds, $3,652,300. And cash and working assets

2 A. M. AND STILL AWAKE!

What Acidity Does to Sleep!

11 o'clock—12 o'clock—1 o'clock—2 o'clock—and still no sleep! Tired as you may be, all sleepiness deserts you the moment you fall back on your pillow. Restlessness through the night you rise unrested in the morning, no more fit for a day's work than for a mountain climb. That's the story of many a person today and more often than not acidity is at the bottom of it.

The true way to help correct acidity and neutralize putrefaction is by introducing oxygen into the stomach. Oxygen, as medical science knows, is a marvelous antacid and internal antiseptic. And now it is possible to introduce oxygen into the stomach by means of an amazing, harmless white tablet, called Magnesia Oxidized, developed in Germany by the world's foremost pharmaceutical house, Magnesia Oxidized stands as one of the great medical discoveries of all time! Upon contact with the stomach acids, these tablets liberate hydrogen peroxide, which in turn liberates active oxygen. The oxygen purifies the stomach and neutralizes putrefaction, the whole intestinal tract. All the distress and misery are relieved and a new sense of vigor and well-being is restored.

5-Day Acidity Test
For yourself how much acid has to do with your sleeplessness and that persistent feeling of tiredness. Make this 5-day acidity test. Buy a box of Magnesia Oxidized from any drug store. Take two after each meal for 5 days. During the 5-day test you will feel a new sense of well-being and your sleep will be restored. The drug will promptly and permanently reduce your acidity.

People's Motorbus Co.
Reckoned Worth $1,885,- 400 Against Replacement
Value of $2,886,442.

An analysis of the finances of the St. Louis Public Service Co. and the People's Motor Bus Co., in which property value was computed on various bases and results of operations were given, was presented to the Special Transportation Committee of the Board of Aldermen this afternoon by F. C.
Boyer of Price, Waterhouse & Co., public accountants.

The accounting company was requested by the Aldermanic Committee to make the study in connection with its inquiry into the mass transportation problem.

This afternoon's hearing was the third the committee has held this month, under the direction of its special counsel, former Congressman Cleveland A. Newton. At the first hearing advocates of public ownership stated their views and at the second, a week ago, the Chamber of Commerce presented an exhaustive report emphasizing the inadequacy of the present transportation system, to which it attributed many of the city's business ills.

Property Valued at $53,817,486.
Based on actual cost to the present company, the accountants assigned a value of $53,817,486 to the property of the Public Service Co.
This was compared with book value of $73,993,025, reproduction cost of $83,976,201, and rate base value of $65,244,154 as fixed by the Public Service Commission.

The accounting study took into consideration net property rentals of $1,121,914 from Dec. 1, 1937, to Dec. 31, 1939, but did not undertake to project probable future rentals due to obsolescence.

A market value of $12,094,542 as of last Oct. 19 was assigned to the company's outstanding securities representing a funded debt of $12,758,875. This was based on latest quotations or sales except in the case of a small issue of real estate mortgage notes not quoted, to which face value was assigned.

How the Cost Is Figured.

Actual cost to the present company was computed as follows:
Bids price in foreclosure proceedings, accepted by the Court, $49,101,000.

In addition to the Court's decision required the assumption of certain priorities, of costs, excesses, fees, among which were the following:

St. Louis & Suburban Consolidated mortgage, $2,000,000.

St. Louis Transit Co. 5 per cent bonds to be paid $300 in cash and $70 of preferred stock per $1,000 bond, $2,700,000.

Accrued interest, injury and damage claims and other liabilities assumed (not including mill tax), $5,870,223.

On the other hand, the new company received certain U. S.
Government bonds, $3,652,200.

STILL AWAKE!

What Acidity Does to Sleep?

11 o'clock—12 o'clock—1 o'clock—2 o'clock—still no sleep! Tired as you may be, all sleepiness deserts you the moment you fall back on your pillow. Restless through the night you rise unrested in the morning, no more fit for a day's work than for a mountain climb. That's the story of many a person today and the cause is not acidity is at the bottom of it.

The true way to help correct acidity and prevent putrefaction is by introducing oxygen into the stomach. Oxygen, as everybody knows, is a marvelous antidote and internal antiseptic. And now it is possible to introduce oxygen into the stomach by means of an amazing, harmless white tablet, called Magnesia Oxidiz.

Developed in Germany by the world's foremost pharmaceutical house, Magnesia Oxidiz stands as one of the great medical discoveries of all time! Upon contact with the stomach's acids, these tablets liberate elemental active oxygen. The oxygen attacks excess acid, counteracts the putrefactious processes and sweetens and purifies the whole intestinal tract. All the discomfort and misery are relieved and a new sense of vigor and well-being is restored.

5-Day Acidity Test

For the next five days you must do without your downy pillows and that persistent feeling of a lump in your throat. Make this 5-day acidity test.
Take two after each meal for 5 days. Give the tablets to your pet and give it the same space of your stomach and nerves.
The action of Magnesia Oxidiz doesn't make you feel better, it makes you feel better. And the discomforts that return the balance of nature return your peace.

In other calculations the People's Smoke a fresh cigarette

The tobaccos in CAMELS have never been parched or toasted!

MEN and women everywhere today hail Camels as outstand-ingly the fresh cigarette.

The source of that rare freshness is the fine Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos of which Camels are blended.

These full-mellow, sun-ripened tobaccos—more costly and choice to start with—are naturally smooth, cool, fragrant, palatable.

The natural moisture which infuses them with mildness and flavor is vigilantly safeguarded and skilfully preserved—our tobaccos are never parched or toasted.

The Camel Humidor Pack is a great boon to smokers because it insures that a perfectly conditioned fresh cigarette comes to you in prime smoking condition.

If you smoke Camels you know what that means—what a relief they offer from the harsh hot smoke of dusty-dry factory-stale tobaccos.

Smoke a fresh cigarette, for pleasure's sake. Switch to Camels for just one day—then leave them, if you can!

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Don't remove the moisture-proof wrapping from your package of Camels after you open it. The Camel Humidor Pack is protection against perfume and powder odors, dust and germs.
In offices and homes, even in the dry atmosphere of artificial heat, the Camel Humidor Pack delivers fresh Camels and keeps them right until the last one has been smoked

"You needn't tell me

the fresh cigarette!"

"BACK TO WALTZ" MOVEMENT

Austrian Newspaper Offers Prize to Musicians.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
VIENNA.—In connection with the various musical rejuvenation enterprises, a "back to the waltz" movement has been launched in Vienna. Several Austrian newspapers have decided to offer prizes for new Viennese waltzes, worthy of Johann Strauss.

The new movement is headed by composers regarded as the most outstanding disciples of Johann Strauss, and who consider modern jazz inartistic, primitive and devoid of beauty. Among them are Franz Lehár, Emmerich Kalman and Edmund Eisl.

RETAIL RADIO BUSINESS

SHOWS SHARP SLUMP

Estimates of Decline From 1930 Total Range From 10 to 40 Pct.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The retail radio business throughout the United States during the present year has experienced a sharp shrinkage.
The most prosperous year for the radio products merchant was 1929, when a sales record for the entire country of $842,548,000 was established. The 1930 earnings, however, reflected the October, 1929, crash, and sales of radios dropped to a little more than $500,000,000. For 1931 estimates of a fall in business under 1930 vary from 10 to 40 per cent.

The principal reason for the present year's lower total, of course, is attributed to the lower price level of radios generally. Because of the growing popularity of midset sets, unit sales are expected to show a much larger margin of decrease. In 1929 and 1930 the larger sets were in greater demand.
An Encouraging Sign.
One of the encouraging signs, dealers say, is to be found in the 1929 census, which disclosed that radio sets were not so widely distributed as was at first believed. In 25 of the 48 states and the District of Columbia it was shown that there were a number of sets in every third family.
As the average life of a radio set is about five years, and two-thirds of the families, approximately, are classed as potential customers, manufacturers and retailers are not without hope that the trade may regain some of its former buoyancy.

In the 25 states and District of Columbia there were 2,374,287 sets reported against a previously estimated total of 2,754,800. Figuring the remaining states on this basis, estimators find some 11,500,000 radio receivers in use against a previously seemingly erroneous total of 13,475,600. If the present figures are correct, dealer say, the field has been enlarged some 14 per cent.

Carrying Small Stocks.
In one Eastern city where radio sets for national distribution are made it was found that production for this year was down some 20 per cent, with dollar volume of sales between 50 and 60 per cent below those of last year. Among dealers the opinion was expressed that sufficient profit could not be made on low and medium priced sets and that a demand for the higher priced grades must be created if the business is to regain its former prosperity.
From the Middle West a more cheerful tone was reported among dealers, many of whom believe 1932 will show a greatly increased demand for radio products and that prices will reflect any encouraging symptoms in general conditions. It is the opinion in that part of the country that low price levels have been reached.
In practically all districts collections are reported as slow while warehousing stocks are being kept at a minimum. Dealers everywhere apparently are operating closely to requirements with the idea of meeting any manufacturing changes and improvements in the near future.

CAPACITY AUDIENCE HEARS

MARIO CHAMLEE IN RECITAL

Singing of American Tenor More Often Pleasingly Agreeable Than Profound or Arresting.

Mario Chamlee, American tenor, opened the new season of the Civic Music League last night at the Odeon with a song recital. A capacity house greeted the soloist and seemed reasonably enthusiastic over what he had to offer.
Chamlee's voice rounded better in its upper register and when under the full pressure of a fortissimo than at other times. His interpretative powers also were uneven. A French group of songs by Dupare, Koehlin and Faure reflected both an emotional sympathy with the text and a sympathetic understanding of the composer's intention but the same cannot be said for his treatment of Beethoven's "Adelaide." Chamlee's singing, in fact, was more often pleasantly agreeable than profound or arresting.
After each group Chamlee sang several encores.
The next attraction in the Civic Music League season will be the Gordon String Quartet which comes to the Odeon Dec. 15.

HERO OF COLORADO BLIZZARD
Commission Tells Governor That Act Does Not Come Under Scope of the Awards.

By the Associated Press.
DENVER, Colo., Nov. 4.—Bryan Untied, school boy, and the late Carl E. Miller, heroes of the Pleasant Hill school bus tragedy, in which Miller, bus driver, and five children lost their lives, will not receive Carnegie medals.
Gov. Adams has received a letter from the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission advising that the acts of Bryan and Miller in attempting to save the bus occupants when the machine stalled in a blizzard did not come within the scope of the commission's awards.
Untied's heroism brought him nationwide acclaim and a visit to the White House as a guest of President Hoover.
The Governor placed the matter before the Carnegie commission at the request of several persons in the Pleasant Hill district.

STIMSON REJECTS NEW YORK

PLEA FOR POWER AGREEMENT

Thinks It Would Be Unwise Until Treaty With Canada Has Made Progress.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Secretary of State Stimson has told the New York State power authority it would be "unwise" to attempt to agree on New York State power claims involved in the St. Lawrence waterway until "substantial progress" has been made toward a treaty with Canada.
New York State has repeatedly urged that the Federal Government agree as to the rights of the State involving the water power before going ahead with the international negotiations.
Last week Chairman Frank P. Walsh of the power authority conferred with Stimson and it was stated on behalf of the administration that the State representatives would be given full opportunity to confer concerning their claims.
Stimson's letter to Walsh today repeated this willingness to receive but definitely rejected the request that New York's claims be defined specifically before beginning negotiation of the treaty.

ON BANKING LEGISLATION

Head of Reserve Board and Its Experts Call on Democratic Senator.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The President, called Senator Glass to the White House from his Lynchburg (Va.) home to go over his ideas and plans on the financial situation yesterday. A fairly good understanding between Mr. Hoover and the Democratic spokesman on banking legislation was reached.
Later, Eugene Meyer, Governor of the Federal Reserve Board, and a group of the board's experts called on Senator Glass at the Capitol. Earlier in the day, George L. Harrison, Governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, conferred with Glass. The Senator said the various conferences had no relation and the Federal Reserve officials insisted no immediate new steps were in prospect.
Mr. Hoover spent much time in conference with a group of real estate and insurance men, bankers and builders on plans to accelerate home building.

CHILDREN'S GUARDIANS TO REORGANIZE STAFF

"Lack of Co-operation," It Is Reported Is Reason Given to the Agent, Miss Bain.

A resolution proposing the reorganization of the office of the staff of the Board of Children's Guardians has been adopted by the board. A Personnel Committee has been appointed to consider the subject. The board, which is independent of other city departments and is appointed by the Mayor, directs the care of delinquent and homeless children.

The work of the board is directed by Miss Susan Bain, who has the title of agent and has 14 employees under her. Friends of Miss Bain say when she inquired why a reorganization was proposed she was told there had been a "lack of co-operation." These friends attribute this complaint to friction that has occurred between Miss Bain and the Efficiency Board over appointment of employees, and to interference with the staffs work by members of the Board of Children's Guardians. The board, in proposing the reorganization, asserted that the staff was not handling children's cases as rapidly as it should and expressed a belief that there was a lack of administrative control.

Miss Bain and Mrs. Charles Ellis, chairman of the board, refuse to comment. Miss Bain has been an employee of the Board of Children's Guardians for 15 years and its agent at $220 a month since May 1, 1925. She has an assistant at $150 a month, a social worker-linguist at $140, a graduate visiting nurse at $130, nine social workers at $125 and two stenographers at $107.

WOULD GIVE SPANISH COURTS SOLE RIGHTS ON DIVORCE

Cabinet Decree Is Presented to Assembly; Ecclesiastical Law Is Overthrown.

By the Associated Press.

MADRID, Nov. 4.—A Cabinet decree granting to civil courts the sole right to judge marital, divorce and nullification questions, hitherto regulated by ecclesiastical law, was presented to the Assembly yesterday.

In presenting the measure, Provisional President Manuel Azana said it was designed to elevate civil law above canonical law in keeping with the trend of the times. Government Ministers said the decree would prepare the nation for the enactment of a specific divorce article in the Constitution.

A general provision, allowing Divorces to husband and wife or "just cause" was incorporated in the Constitution Oct. 17 by the Assembly by a vote of 169 to 153. That action overthrew laws against divorce which had been in effect for centuries. It was described by Catholic Deputies as "another indication of the attempt of Leftists to revolutionize Spanish life entirely."

The decree is retroactive to April 14.

ILLINOIS BOARD DEMANDS THAT PIPE LINE FILE ITS CONTRACTS

Accuses Company of Trying to Tie Interstate "String" to Sale of Natural Gas.

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 4.—Contracts entered into by the Panhandle Illinois Pipe Line Co. must be submitted to the Commerce Commission for approval before consideration will be given experimental rates for natural gas service, an informal conference was advised yesterday.

The company seeks to sell gas in Springfield, Peoria, Champaign and other Illinois cities, but only two contracts, for service in Peoria and Springfield, and Champaign-Urbana, have been filed.

Following approval of the contracts, the commission indicated it would consider separate applications for temporary reduced rates in any city.

At a conference last week the utility was told that all contracts held by any companies affiliated with it should be assigned to the Panhandle Illinois.

The commission stated today that the company appeared to be "stalling," and asked the company's counsel if it was the aim to keep an interstate "string" to the sale of natural gas in Illinois. This was denied by counsel.

DOROTHY MACKAIL REMARRIES

Movie Actress Is Bride of Neil Albert Miller, Singer.

By the Associated Press.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Nov. 4.—Dorothy Mackail, movie actress, married Neil Albert Miller, night club and radio singer, yesterday. Miss Mackail and Miller took a plane to Yuma, Ariz., where they were married by a Justice of the Peace, and immediately after the ceremony flew back to Hollywood.

The actress met Miller in Honolulu, where he was employed as a sugar plantation manager. In Honolulu the pair obtained a marriage license, but did not wed. Later, Miss Mackail was reported engaged to John McCormick, former husband of Colleen Moore; Walter Byron, actor, and Horace Hough. Miss Mackail was divorced from Lothar Mendes, film director, in 1928.

Fidelity Depositors to Meet.

Depositors of the closed Fidelity Bank & Trust Co., 1132 Washington ave., will meet Sunday at 3 p. m. at Chesed Shel Emeth Temple, Euclid avenue and Page boulevard, to discuss an investigation of the bank's affairs. Nathan Harris, real estate dealer, has been named chairman of the Depositors' Protective Committee and Taylor, Mayer and Shiffrin and Harry Delberbaum, attorneys, have been retained to represent depositors' interests. The committee, so far, has obtained the co-operation of about 150 depositors.

ILLINOIS ADOPTS NEW FORM OF AUTO IDENTIFICATION CARD

Photostatic Copy of Original Application to Be Issued With 1932 Plates.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 4.—Secretary of State Stratton has announced 1932 identification cards sent to automobile owners with their license plates will be a photostatic copy of the original application, including a facsimile of the owner's signature. This, it is said, will eliminate errors in transcription, leave no doubt as to the ownership, and assist materially in recovery of stolen automobiles.

The plan will enable the department to give 72-hour service in the rush period in the mailing of the license plates. Previously from one to six weeks was required.

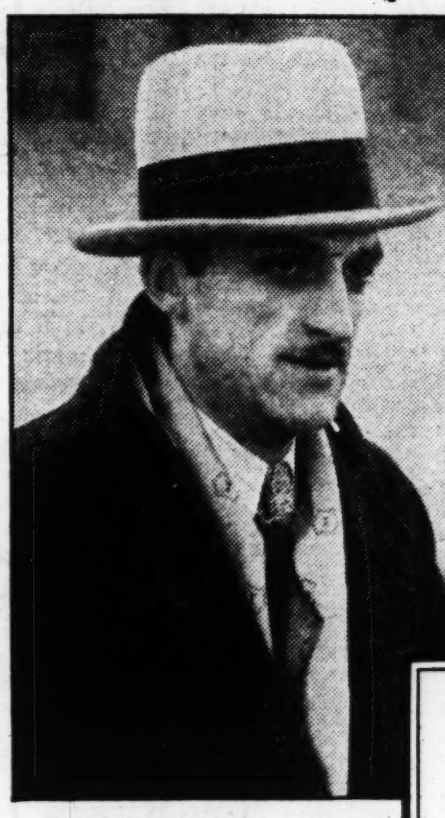

Illinois is the first state to adopt this method.

Church Offering of Old Shoes.

HARRISBURG, Ill., Nov. 4.—Bushel baskets were used to take up a collection at First Baptist Church here. The congregation had been asked to bring shoes for needy persons of the town. Contributions filled six bushel baskets.

RESULTS give striking proof of New Iso-Vis for WINTER DRIVING

AGAIN the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association has tested New Iso-Vis in the Famous White Fleet of Iso-Vis test cars. This time at zero—in the cold rooms of leading automobile companies. And the results give striking proof that New Iso-Vis, by giving immediate lubrication, protects the engine of a car during cold weather starts.

These 13 cars of different makes have been piling proof on top of proof that New Iso-Vis delivers year-around lubrication. Their performance records on the Indianapolis Speedway—on tours of the Mid-West covering 281,143 total car miles—and now in these tests at an extreme winter temperature have demonstrated that New Iso-Vis in the recommended grade

- 1 Gives cold weather lubrication in seconds —not minutes.
- 2 Will not thin out from dilution.
- 3 Deposits a minimum amount of carbon.
- 4 Cuts wear to a negligible factor.

Change now to the recommended cold weather grade of New Iso-Vis. Don't delay. Enjoy the satisfaction of knowing your car is properly protected. Get a fill of New Iso-Vis at once at any Standard Oil service station or dealer.

ARMS SO SCRAWNY CHEST SO HOLLOW

... he wouldn't put on a bathing suit!

Yet a few weeks later he'd gained 19 pounds and felt great.

He'd had to turn down many a joyous party. Those pipe-stem limbs, that caved-in body would, he knew, count him out with any girl. How long before he'd be out in the cold altogether—never invited any more?

Yet a few weeks later he was like a new person. Body huskier every day—brain like a steel-trap. But let him tell it.

"I was so skinny, so ashamed of my spindly arms and legs, that friends couldn't induce me to put on a bathing suit. Nothing seemed to help build me up.

"Then a few weeks ago I heard about Ironized Yeast. Well, here are the results. At present I've gained 19 pounds and feel better than ever before. When I get up in the morning I feel great, with a clear mind where before it seemed I always got up in a fog." Mr. John Hagrish, 200 W. Morris Ave., Linden, N. J.

Why have to hang back and miss the pleasures others enjoy, because of a skinny, run-down body? Why not build up a strong, well-proportioned figure this "short-cut" way?

IRONIZED YEAST

New Concentrated Health Builder
In Pleasant Tablet Form

Get a clear, healthy complexion. Gain new energy of mind and body, as thousands of others have.

A Double Action Tonic

It is easy to understand the amazing tonic values of Ironized Yeast. Two of the greatest health and strength builders known, combined in one. They act at once to build firm, solid flesh—not fat. Purify blood—strengthen nerves—revitalize entire system.

Special cultured, imported "beer yeast," the richest known. This yeast is concentrated 7 times—therefore 7 times more effective. Then it is combined by a special process with 3 distinct kinds of blood-building, energizing iron.

RESULTS—OR MONEY BACK. Start taking Ironized Yeast now and watch the change. If you are not overjoyed with your progress after the very first package, your money will be promptly refunded by the manufacturer.

AVOID IMITATIONS! In order to get the benefits this tonic has brought to countless others, you must use genuine Ironized Yeast. Look for "I. Y." on each tablet. At all druggists. Ironized Yeast Co., Atlanta, Ga.

ILLINOIS RELIEF NEED DOWNSTATE PUT AT $7,700,000

Chairman of Gov. Emerson's Committee Reports
34 Cities Will Require
$1,358,958.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 4.—Downstate cities of Illinois will require $7,700,000 relief funds for the coming fall and winter, it was estimated today when Wayne Hummer, chairman of the state activities committee of the Governor's commission on unemployment and relief received reports from 34 cities giving their needs as $1,358,958.

Some cities have already completed their relief campaigns. Hummer reported to Gov. Emerson. In Elgin, the relief campaign for $71,000 was oversubscribed by $12,000. Sterling raised its quota of $20,000 without difficulty.

The largest quota so far reported outside of Cook County is that for Joliet, where $20,000 is sought. Springfield ranks second with a quota of $178,268.

"The cities throughout Illinois are considering unemployment relief as an individual problem that each community solve for itself," Hummer said. "A few of the smaller communities will not attempt to raise relief funds. The reason for this is that they are so situated that they can take care of their needy without making any actual expenditures."

"All the larger centers of population in the state, however, are making plans for raising money. While some have not as yet set their quotas, they are all preparing to collect relief funds."

Figures on the various cities follow:

CITY.	Population.	Amount
Aurora	46,539	$125,100
Bloomington	30,930	70,000
Bradford	951	500

LAVAL TELLS BELGIAN ENVOY ABOUT TALK WITH VON HOESCH

French Premier Understood to Have Inquired About Germany's Intentions.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Nov. 4.—Premier Laval today received Baron Gallfrier d'Hastoy, Belgian Ambassador, and it was understood the Premier informed him of his conversations with the German Ambassador, Dr. Leopold von Hoesch, yesterday.

Meanwhile, France is awaiting Germany's reaction to yesterday's meetings. It is understood that the Premier inquired into Germany's intentions during his conference with Von Hoesch, but that neither made any definite proposal. It is considered likely that the negotiations will continue and perhaps produce tangible results before the end of this month.

Persons usually well informed said Von Hoesch had told the Premier that Germany could not meet both reparations payments and debts due to private banks, and that if the private obligations due in February must be met, then the reparations installment must be reduced.

CLEARING OF ALOE PLAZA SITE TO BEGIN IN FEW DAYS

Contract for Removal of Debris Let for $8630, Less Than Half of City's Estimate.
The removal of the debris from the two blocks opposite Union Station, the site of Aloe Plaza, will be begun in a few days by the Mills

Drayage Co., which made the low bid of $8630 for the work yesterday. There were eight bids. The city's estimate was $19,000. After the site is cleared it is planned to fill the cellars there with dirt taken from the excavation for the new Federal Building, on Twelfth street. The Park Department will then plant grass and shrubs pending the completion of the permanent plaza plan.

Scientists now tell us that coffee is a fresh food, like milk or butter.

PERISHABLE!

In the same class with butter and milk... because coffee contains a delicate oil which in a comparatively short time becomes Rancid!

A STARTLING NEW FACT about coffee! Like the cream you put in it, coffee is a fresh food, scientists have discovered. Like other fresh foods, coffee is perishable.

Fresh, coffee is an invigorating, delightful drink, an actual aid to digestion. Stale, it is often a cause of headaches, indigestion, sleeplessness.

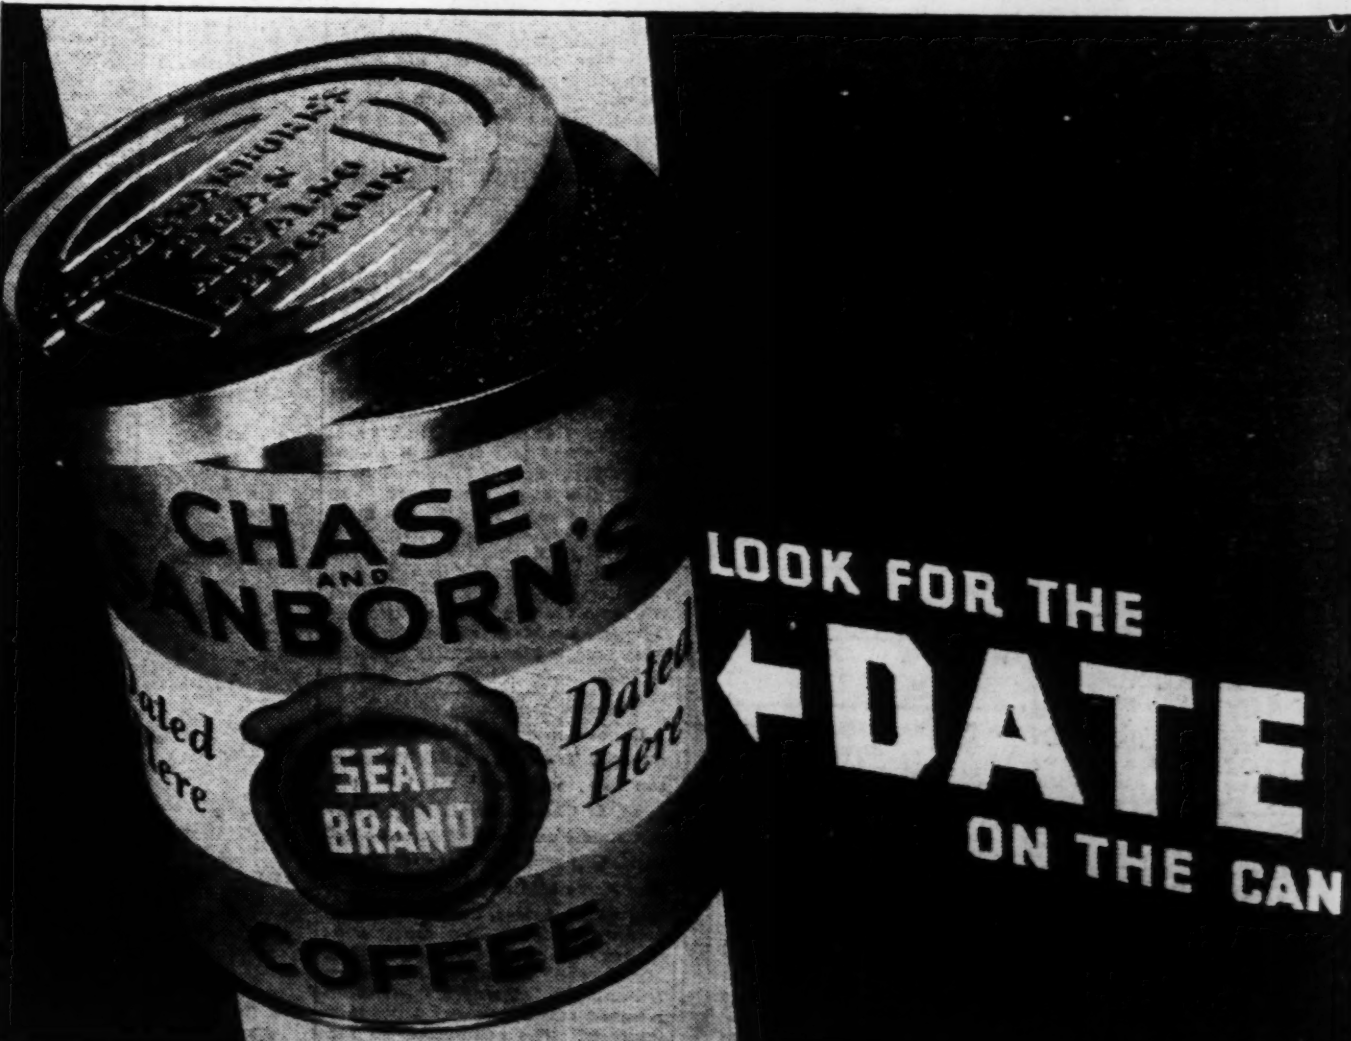

To protect precious flavor and aroma, Chase & Sanborn's Coffee is now rushed to your grocer by the same nation-wide delivery system that delivers fresh Fleischmann's Yeast daily. Every can is DATED the day your grocer receives it. You can't buy a can of this dated coffee that is more than ten days old.

SCIENTISTS say that in every pound of coffee there is about half a cup of delicate oil. Fresh, this oil carries the flavor and aroma you love. But in a comparatively short time it becomes rancid—toxic—indigestible—flat. The date on a can of Chase & Sanborn's is your protection against these dangers.

For guaranteed freshness... for flavor which has been famous among coffee lovers for 65 years... buy a can of Chase & Sanborn's—today. See what a difference freshness makes in flavor and aroma.

TO GUARANTEE FRESHNESS, EVERY CAN OF CHASE & SANBORN'S COFFEE IS DATED THE DAY YOUR GROCER RECEIVES IT

3 Connecticut Cities Democratic.

By the Associated Press.
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 4.—The three largest cities in Connecticut—New Haven, Hartford and Bridgeport—elected Democratic Mayors yesterday. In the former two the Democrats succeeded Republican administrations. John W. Murphy, Democrat, won over Lawrence W. Hall, Republican incumbent, in New Haven. William J. Rankin was elected Mayor of Hartford over William J. Mulligan, Republican. He will succeed William E. Patterson, Republican. Mayor Edward T. Buckingham, Democrat, was re-elected in Bridgeport over the opposition of William S. Mason, Republican, and Jasper McLevy, Socialist. The Socialist ran second.

ACLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, causing a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, take one of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit, 15c, 50c and 60c.

G-E RADIO wins tone-test at Cincinnati Supper Club

Gets big majority vote at magnificent new Netherland-Plaza Hotel

Before a crowd of gay fashionables in the exclusive "Pavillon Caprice", the General Electric Radio again proved its superior tone by winning still another tone-test!

Four radios competed. All were current models of leading makes. All were completely hidden from the listeners. Each set was known only by a number.

The audience listened—voted. The G-E Radio polled 50% more votes than all other sets combined—three times as many as its nearest competitor!

Any radio may claim "better tone". But here is proof! Believe your own ears! You've heard many radios. Now hear the General Electric!

Its tone is of startling clarity—an honest re-creation of the original studio performance; with nothing added, nothing distorted!

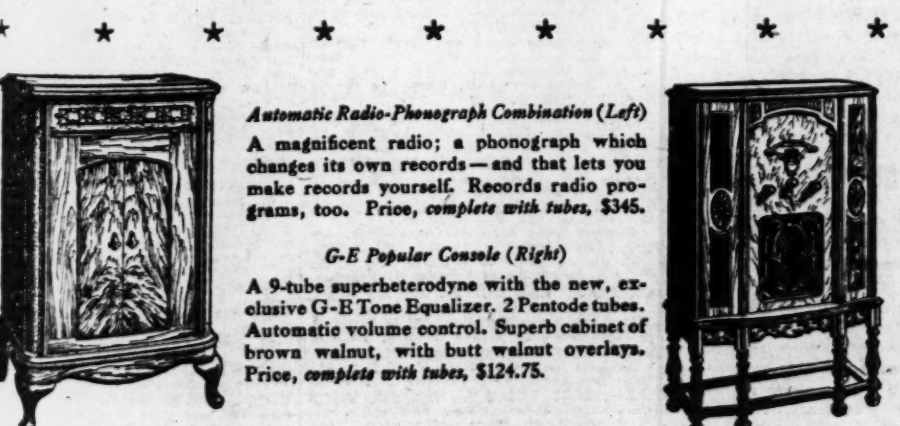

Turn the dial. Stations come in and blank out at exact points. No overlapping. You get many stations, local and distant!

Go to a G-E Radio dealer. Ask about the Certified Inspection Plan. G-E Radio prices range from $37.50 for the G-E Midget to $345 for the Automatic Radio-Phonograph combination—including tubes!

UNITED KINGDOM BECOMES

BEST CUSTOMER OF U. S.
Supplanted Canada in September Trade, Figures at Washington Show.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The United Kingdom supplanted Canada as America's best customer in September, purchasing $24,889,023 in American goods, as against $23,601,553 for the Dominion.

Both the export figures, however, showed sharp declines from the corresponding month last year, when the United Kingdom took $57,845,123 and Canada, $51,978,695 in American shipments.

Commerce Department reports give the United States a favorable trade balance for September of $9,854,581 and show trade with Asiatic countries is holding up better than trade with those of other continents.

Imports from Great Britain were $12,379,213 in September, compared with $17,017,863, and from Canada $21,827,618, against $25,522,475. Shipments to Russia continued to hold up well, amounting to $10,500,222, against $4,923,082. Soviet trade representatives said, however, this did not mean Russia was buying more in the United States than before, but rather that orders for heavy machinery given a year or more ago were just now being filled.

Edmonia McClelland, a Negro, was wounded in the left thigh by an unidentified Negro man yesterday, who came to her home at 410 North Third street, East St. Louis, and shot her when she refused to give him a dime, the told police. She was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis.

NEW ECONOMIES BY HUNGARY

JACK BRITT OFFERS ALIBI
Diplomatic Service Cuts Include Closing of Legations.

BUDAPEST, Nov. 4.—Radical economies in Hungary's diplomatic service are announced. The legations at Bern and Stockholm are to be closed. In the future Madrid and Brussels each will have a Charge d'Affaires instead of a higher diplomatic officer.

Hungarian diplomats no longer will follow the rulers of the countries to which they are accredited to summer resorts and the grants to the Foreign Office and to various legations are being greatly reduced. Hungary's interests in Switzerland will be taken care of from Vienna and the Scandinavian countries will come under the representative at The Hague.

Pantages' Second Trial Under Way.
LOS ANGELES, Calif., Nov. 4.—With the jury completed and the opening statements of counsel made, Pantages were called today in the second trial of Alexander Pantages, wealthy theatrical magnate, charged with attacking Eunice Pringle, a young dancer. Eight men and four women make up the jury. At his first trial, Pantages was sentenced and convicted to from one to 50 years in prison.

Man, 78, Kills Self With Gas.
Richard McCabe, 78 years old, was found dead of gas poisoning in his room at the Illinois Hotel, 808 Franklin avenue, last night. McCabe was kneeling beside the bed near a gas burner, which was open, but not lighted.

IN $2,500,000 BANK HOLDUP

Woman Says He Was in Granite City at Time of Robbery in Lincoln, Neb.

By the Associated Press.
LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 4.—Jack Britt of East St. Louis, charged with bank robbery in connection with the $2,500,000 holdup of the Lincoln National Bank & Trust Co., Sept. 17, 1930, offered an alibi witness today.

Miss Almira Lents of Granite City, Ill., testified the defendant called on her every day during the three weeks of September, 1930, when she was ill at her home. The State rested this morning, after calling seven witnesses who identified Britt as one of the robbers.

L. R. Dowle and T. Clement Gaughan, attorneys for the defendant, said they would call about a dozen witnesses.
Mr. and Mrs. George C. Stoy testified they saw Britt in Lincoln the day of the robbery. Stoy now is serving a seven-year prison sentence for forgery. He said he worked in a gambling place operated by Tony Foley in 1927 in East St. Louis and he knew Britt. Thomas O'Connor and Howard "Pop" Lee, O'Connor and Lee have been convicted of the robbery here. O'Connor has been sentenced to 25 years in prison, but the sentencing of Lee has been deferred pending argument of his motion for a new trial.

Gus Winkler is also charged with robbery. Stoy said he also saw O'Connor, Lee, Winkler, "Eddie the Greaser," "Whitney" Irvine and Eddie De Rue, here the morning of the robbery.

WATERWAYS LABOR COUNCIL

FOR MORE FEDERAL BUILDING
Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DAVENPORT, Ia., Nov. 4.—The Midwest Deep Waterways Labor Council, organized at the conference of trades union men here, will present to the next Congress a program to stimulate public work for unemployment relief.

Regulation of working conditions on Government river and harbor projects also will be sought. A second conference will be held Nov. 21 at St. Louis.

The principal resolutions adopted by the conference request that Congress vote at $10,000,000 bond issue to provide for a widespread governmental construction program, and that Congress amend the existing Bacon-Davis bill so prevailing wage scales be observed on all Federal building jobs of $50,000 or more.

PLAYS COMMUNIST NINE YEARS

Canadian Officer Witness Against Nine on Trial at Toronto.
By the Associated Press.
TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 4.—At the trial of nine Communists, Sergeant John Leopold of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police testified that he assumed the name of E. W. Selwyn, posed as a Communist, and for nine years acted as secretary of the Regina branch of the Communist party of Canada. He was never suspected.

He attended all Communist conventions in his secretarial capacity and performed all the duties of a Communist so that he might obtain information against the suspects.

Thereupon the State's Attorney said the State's cases against all four would fall and Circuit Judge Charles A. Shuey ordered a verdict of "not guilty" in Mrs. Stevens' case and dismissed the jury.

Charged Men Were Extortionists.
This development followed a verdict of "not guilty" for Fred Beal, Trilla merchant, yesterday who charged that Robert Randolph and Ramsey Patten were not only "firebugs" but extortionists. He said the charge against him was a result of a conspiracy by which Patten and Randolph hoped to extort a payment of $200 from him. He charged they also threatened to kidnap one of his children.

This verdict of "not guilty" for Beal strengthened the case against Randolph, until Patten refused to testify.

Twenty years as arsonist is Patten's record. He testified readily yesterday.

FOUR HELD FOR THEFTS

FROM 20 LOAN COMPANIES
Two of Robberies Laid to Gang Are Those at Wellston and Alton.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
KEWANEHE, Ill., Nov. 4.—Four men being held at Cambridge, Ill., are charged with the theft of $20,000 from 20 Middle West loan companies, according to J. D. Krumpinger, chief of the Kewanee police, who assisted in the Kewanee, Nebraska, Mo., and the Household Finance Co. of Alton, Ill. The others have occurred in Kewanee, Nebraska, Iowa and Wisconsin.

Two of the robberies attributed to the gang are those at the Personal Finance Co. of Wellston, Mo., and the Household Finance Co. of Alton, Ill. The others have occurred in Kewanee, Nebraska, Iowa and Wisconsin.

In addition to admitting the robberies, two members of the gang are said to have confessed to stealing automobiles in Illinois and Iowa. Two other members are being sought.

WOULD HAVE KANSAS CITY TAKE OVER TROLLEY LINES
14,531 Persons Sign Petition for Vote on Condemnation of Capital Stock.

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 4.—A special election on a proposal that the city take over the trolley lines of the Kansas City Public Service Co., thus taking control of its street car lines and other property, was given at the city clerk's office yesterday by Edward White, an accountant and leader in the movement.

A statement filed with the petition in the office of the City Clerk gave the names of names on the petition at 1,531. The City Council is expected to take action on the matter.

FEET CUT BY CHANNEL WAVES
Frenchman Crosses Strait on a Surfboard.

FOLKESTONE, England, Nov. 4.—The English Channel has been crossed in an even dozen ways now. A young Frenchman, Roger Tronquet, crossed on a surfboard. Up to the time of Tronquet's feat the channel had been crossed by balloon, hydrocycle, motor cycle, airplane, submarine, punt, canoe, slider, 11-foot dinghy, water skis and the channel stager.

Tronquet's feet were bleeding from the constant wash of water across the board when he arrived here. It took about seven hours to make the crossing.

SKINS AND CLAWS AS CASH
Primitive Currency Used in Part of Western Australia.

By the Associated Press.
PERTH, Australia, Nov. 4.—Shortage of currency in Australia does not worry the men of the northwest part of Western Australia, where, in some regions, dingoes, wild dog skins and hawk claws circulate as money.

Dingo skins are worth about $10 each. The Government pays $1 for each pair of hawk claws. It is not unusual at the race meetings in these sections to see the wagers made in skins and claws. A heavy winner has to take his booty away in a cart.

PROSECUTION FAILS

WHEN WITNESS BALKS
Ramsey Patten, 63-Year-Old Convict, Refuses to Testify at Charleston, Ill., Arson Trial.

By the Associated Press.
CHARLESTON, Ill., Nov. 4.—Prosecution of the Mattison and Charleston arson cases failed yesterday when Ramsey Patten, 63-year-old convict, refused to testify after having been brought from Southern Illinois State Penitentiary as the State's principal witness.

Before he went to the penitentiary Patten testified freely, almost boastfully, of the fires he had set and told the names of those he said aided him. This afternoon he was called as the first State witness against Mrs. Marie Stevens, wife of J. O. Stevens, Mattison real estate broker.

Says He Won't Tell.
The State's Attorney started questioning him. He refused to answer. Pressed for an explanation, Patten said:

"I ain't going to say no more about anybody."

He said his decision was firm, not only in the case against Mrs. Stevens, but in the case against Robert Randolph, Mrs. Jennie Sheridan, 56, who was convicted last term but won a retrial when it was charged one of the jurors was under age.

This verdict, which is awaiting his third trial on a charge of burning the house he rented from Mrs. Stevens.

Thereupon the State's Attorney said the State's cases against all four would fall and Circuit Judge Charles A. Shuey ordered a verdict of "not guilty" in Mrs. Stevens' case and dismissed the jury.

PERTH, Australia, Nov. 4.—Shortage of currency in Australia does not worry the men of the northwest part of Western Australia, where, in some regions, dingoes, wild dog skins and hawk claws circulate as money.

Dingo skins are worth about $10 each. The Government pays $1 for each pair of hawk claws. It is not unusual at the race meetings in these sections to see the wagers made in skins and claws. A heavy winner has to take his booty away in a cart.

AFTER FIVE-CONTINENT CHASE
Alleged Payroll Robber to Be Taken Back to Mount Holly, N. J., From California.

By the Associated Press.
MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., Nov. 4.—Detective Clifford Cane left by plane for Stockton, Cal., yesterday to bring back Luigi Pinto for trial on a charge that he was one of six men who shot and killed Henry D. Rider in an attempted payroll robbery on Oct. 15, 1916.

Pinto's arrest at Stockton yesterday culminated a 15-year chase of correspondence between Ellis H. Parker, Burlington County Chief of Detectives, and authorities of five continents through which Pinto roamed after leaving here. Parker, by cable reports, followed Pinto through South America, Italy, North Africa, Shanghai and back to the United States.

Rider, wealthy owner of cranberry bogs, was shot near Hammon, N. J., and two relatives in his automobile with him were wounded by six men who sought to steal a $4000 payroll.

Giovanni Iraca was electrocuted at Trenton in 1917 for his part in the crime; his brother, Antonio, was arrested a few months ago in Republic, Pa., where he had become a respected garage owner, when a woman divulged his secret; his brother, Antonio, was arrested a few months ago in Republic, Pa., where he had become a respected garage owner, when a woman divulged his secret; his brother, Antonio, was arrested a few months ago in Republic, Pa., where he had become a respected garage owner, when a woman divulged his secret.

Files Suits for $1,500,000
FOR ATTEMPT TO EVICT HIM

Harris Rosen Takes Action Against Controlling Note and E. J. Hauschulte.

Two damage suits, totaling $1,500,000, were filed today by Harris Rosen, 5590 Pershing avenue, against Controlling Note and E. J. Hauschulte.

The suit against Note is for $500,000 actual and $500,000 punitive damages, and that against Hauschulte for two amounts of $250,000 each. Rosen charges that he is the rightful title owner to the apartment building in which he lives and that Hauschulte is an attempt to evict him last Monday.

He charges that the two were without legal right to expel him. Note and Hauschulte could not be reached. Rosen, his attorney said, has been in possession of the building since June 2, managing its affairs and collecting rents.

TELLS OF PASSENGERS SEIZING BOAT AFTER IT PUT TO SEA
Captain of Mexican Craft Gives First Details of Experience With VERA CRUZ, Nov. 4.—First detailed information of what happened aboard the Mexican steamer Superior when it was seized off Vera Cruz a month ago by a Venezuelan filibustering expedition, was received today in a letter from Capt. Reyes of the Superior. The letter was sent from Venezuela Oct. 28.

The captain said that soon after his ship left Vera Cruz with a group of supposed chile workers aboard, the passengers rose against the crew, seized the officers and jailed them, and silenced the radio. The captain and officers were released Oct. 12, when the rebels had left the ship near Capatritia, Venezuela, after taking with them all supplies and worthwhile cargo.

The Superior gunboat took the crew and officers to the port of La Piedra, where the Venezuelan Minister of War and others visited it. A Government investigation is being conducted.

SLAYER'S VOLUNTEER COUNSEL
Saved from Maryland Mob Crowd at Snow Hill Orders Him and Woman With Him to Leave Town.

By the Associated Press.
SNOW HILL, Md., Nov. 4.—Bernard Aides, volunteer attorney for Yuel Lee, confessed murderer of a family of four on a Maryland farm, was rescued from a mob here today by Helen Mays, who described herself as Aides' protector.

Aides, attorney for the International Labor Union, came here to seek a change of venue for Lee, alleging race prejudice. Leonard Aides of Salisbury was named by the Court, father-in-law and Aides was accepted as associate counsel.

Part of the crowd about Aides and Helen Mays into a luncheon and ordered them to leave town within ten minutes. The luncheon prior declined to serve them and closed his place.

Aides and Helen Mays were rescued by deputy sheriff and taken to Sheriff's office. A loaded pistol was found in the woman's handbag. She said she had been employed by the International Labor Union to protect Aides.

ADMITTS SLAYING SALESMAN
Youth Held for Death of Motorist Who Gave Him Ride.

By the Associated Press.
WACO, Tex., Nov. 4.—W. C. Beck, 19 years old, former student at the University of Texas, was charged yesterday with the slaying of O. L. Jones, Waco automobile salesman, whose body was found beside a highway Sept. 2. Officers said Beck had confessed slaying and robbing Jones.

Beck said he was on his way to his home at Wilks Point, near Waco, when Jones gave him a ride. He said he had attended Texas University in 1930, but left in midwinter to go to work.

BRISK STOCK FALL AFTER WHEAT PRICE TAKES SPURT

Industrial Shares Are Well Bought and Railroad Issues Overcome Early Heaviness in Movement.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The stock market bulged up 1 to more than 3 points in an outburst of buying in the last half hour today, after oscillating uncertainly during most of the session. The turnover approximated 1,500,000 shares. The closing tone was strong.

Buying was a large volume, with frequent transfers of blocks of 1000 to more than 2000 shares, and for a time the ticker fell slightly in arrears. Renewed vigor in shares was apparently in response to fresh strength in the wheat market. Farm implement and mail order shares were particularly strong. Non-ferrous metal issues were helped by a one-fourth of a cent rise in bar silver. Oils were again in demand. The bond market was active and strong.

Among issues gaining 2 to 3 points were United States Steel, American Telephone, American Can, International Harvester, Case, Sears Roebuck, American Smelting, Corn Products, du Pont, Cereals de Pasco, Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Liggett & Myers, B. Loews, and Pacific Gas & Electric. Auburn rose more than 10 points. General Motors, Anaconda, and Montgomery Ward were among issues up a point or more.

Wheat Rise a Factor.

Oils and coppers pulled the stock market out of a mild slump after midday, and bonds worked almost steadily higher. The Argentine issues recording the best levels in weeks, presumably as a result of the improvement in wheat.

The manner in which the wheat market had managed to absorb extensive profit-taking was regarded in Wall street as cheering. Strength of the oil was a further reflection of the firming of crude prices in the mid-continent fields. Buying of the coppers led to unfounded rumors of progress in the conversations between leading world producers now in New York to measures of stabilizing the industry. The conversations, however, have been in small groups, and have been closely guarded.

The midweek business statistics were moderately encouraging. "Iron Age" reported that steel output had improved up to 30 per cent of capacity from 29. This is the first time in several years that the steel industry has failed to slow up as it entered November and, despite the smallness of the gain, it was cheering to those who have been predicting a related seasonal pickup for this major industry. The weekly report of freight car loadings showed a somewhat larger than seasonal gain in the report of electric power consumption was a little more favorable than last week's.

Rally in Sterling.

After an early setback, wheat futures at Chicago responded to close 2 1/2 to 3 cents a bushel net higher. Corn made similar gains. Cotton, however, failed to follow the pace set by other markets, and closed $1 to $1.20 a bale lower.

There was considerable recovery in foreign exchange rates, after recent declines. Sterling cables, at $3.76, was up 4 cents. French, Dutch, German and other leading currencies were higher. The Mexican dollar rose nearly 8 of a cent in sympathy with firmness in silver in Latin America.

A syndicate headed by the Guaranty Co. and the First Trust & Union Trust & Savings Bank reports that the issue of $3,000,000 State of Missouri 4 per cent high yield bonds, due 1945 to 1952, offered to yield 4.25 per cent, has been oversubscribed. This is the first large long-term bond sale arranged by a state or city since England suspended the gold standard.

FOREIGN MARKETS AT A GLANCE

LONDON, Nov. 4.—A cheerful tone prevailed on the Stock Exchange today. Strength was shown in German and Argentine bonds and Argentine stock issues. Some recovery was also made by oil shares, while American stocks were helped by favorable reports from Wall Street. Sterling exchange advanced to $3.76, but later reacted and closed $3.74.

PARIS, Nov. 4.—Prices on the Bourse opened higher following yesterday's upward movement and was attributed partly to the strengthening of oil and wheat prices. Gains were held and the closing was firm.

BERLIN, Nov. 4.—Bourse is closed.

Stockholm Change.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Nov. 4.—The Swedish krona has dropped from a par of 77 1/2 to the dollar, a depreciation of almost 25 per cent, and a further decline is feared.

O. Rydbeck, head of the Scandinavian Bank, said responsible Government and banking officials will concentrate their efforts to prevent inflation and to keep the domestic price level where it is. When payment for Sweden's exports comes due, he said, the krona will return to par.

BOMB LEFT AT HOME OF HEAD OF DEFUNCT MARION, ILL., BANK
 Authorities Believe It Was Placed On Porch by Disgruntled Depositor of Institution.
 MARION, Ill., Nov. 4.—A bomb, which authorities think was planted by disgruntled depositors of the defunct First National Bank of Marion, was found on the porch of the home of Shannon Holland, president of the closed institution, today. The bomb was found by a maid sweeping the porch. A note, "Bury this deep," was left with the bomb.
 The Holland home is next door to the county jail and across the street from the city square.
 The bomb is described as 10 inches long and of expert construction. A six-inch test tube contains what is thought to be nitro-glycerine.

Corns

Stop Hurting Instantly then Lift Right Off!

Drop FREEZONE on that aching corn. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift the corn right off with your fingers. You'll laugh, really! It is so easy and doesn't hurt one bit! Works like a charm, every time.
 A tiny bottle of FREEZONE costs only a few cents at any drug store, and is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, and calluses. Try it!

To End Common Coughs, Mix This at Home

To end quickly those hard coughs due to colds, it is important to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to help throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 3 times the cost. From any drugstore, get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. It keeps perfectly, and children like it. This simple remedy does three necessary things. First, it soothes away the inflammation. Second, it loosens the phlegm. Third, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief.
 Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for incipient bronchial coughs and other severe coughs due to colds.
 Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

PRESCRIPTION for Constipation tested by 47 YEARS' PRACTICE

THERE'S one way to help the bowels that is safe, and sure. It eliminates all the poisonous waste without doing any harm. Its action is thorough but so gentle that it never causes the least discomfort.
 Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin always does the work, and it leaves you feeling fine. You can take it freely, reducing the amount as the bowels grow stronger, can't eat, have dull headaches, feel tired, weak and run-down, this famous doctor's prescription will help get rid of the waste that is probably poisoning your system. If the children have coated tongue or unpleasant breath; if they seem bilious, fretful, upset, give them a little Syrup Pepsin, too. It tastes so good they'll like it, and it can't hurt them. Its gentle aid is

AGREEMENT MADE FOR CANAL IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA
 Water Users and Department of Interior Come to Terms; Election to Be Held.
 By the Associated Press.
 WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Agreement has been reached between the Interior Department and water users along the proposed all-American Canal in Southern California. Secretary of the Interior Wilbur will approve it later in the day for the department.
 The agreement will then go back to the water users associations and an election will be held to determine whether it is acceptable to them. If it is found so the agreement will return to the Interior Department which then will recommend to Congress that the canal be dug.
 The main canal will be 80 miles long and start from the Colorado River about 15 miles above Yuma, Ariz. The Coachella Valley branch, which will run northward from the main canal, will be 130 miles long.
 Under present estimates the canal will cost approximately $34,000,000 and the agreement reached calls for the repayment of that amount by the water users over a period of 40 years. There will be no interest charges. The canal will serve approximately 1,000,000 acres. About 450,000 acres of this total already are under irrigation through the Imperial Valley water system.

PROTEST MEETINGS ON TAXES
 One Minnesota County Cuts Budget $45,000.
 By the Associated Press.
 ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 4.—Protest meetings are effective in reducing taxes, say residents of several Minnesota sections. Taxpayers associations, with farmers and city folk as members, have sprung up generally in the state, seeking relief from levies they consider burdensome.
 Illustrating their success, the Faribault County Board reduced its budget $45,000 after 2000 persons met on the courthouse lawn. It eliminated agricultural and home demonstration agents and weed inspectors, and slashed road and bridge construction funds. Similar meetings are planned in other counties.

ILLINOIS DUCK HUNTING POOR
 Birds Plentiful but Weather Too Warm, Sportsmen Say.
 By the Associated Press.
 BEARDSTOWN, Ill., Nov. 4.—Despite the large number of ducks here, hunters in this section since Sunday have found shooting rather poor, scores of duck camps along the banks of the Illinois River have reported.
 "The days have been too warm and the nights too moonlight for hunting to be good," one old timer explained today. "You see, when days are warm and the moon shines bright at night then birds just naturally feed at night and fly too high in the day time."

ROCK PILE FOR JOB DODGERS
 Minneapolis Mayor Plans Step When Men Reject City Work.
 MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 4.—Mayor William Anderson was told yesterday that one-fourth of the men called to support families now receiving charity on work provided by the city, refused to report or work like the looks of the laboring plans and went home. 59,000 VIEW PITTSBURG ART EXHIBITION IN TWO WEEKS Controversy Over International Jury Selection for the Best Painting.
 By the Associated Press.
 PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 4.—In two weeks, 59,000 have seen the products of modern painters' brushes hanging in the Carnegie International Exhibition of Painting here.
 The international jury this year awarded first prize to Franklin C. Watkins of Philadelphia, whose painting bore the title of "Suicide in Costume." Watkins depicted a clown—not a circus clown, but one of the type of court fools with cap and bells—sprawled on his back across a table, with a smoking pistol falling from his grasp. The face of the figure is grotesque and hideous. There is no beauty in the picture. But critics have praised the work—some have not—and from his pulpit the Rev. Dr. Robert MacGowan of the Bellefield Presbyterian Church said the artist "has that now headed by Gov. Theodore G. Bilbo.

 "The suicide represents disillusionment, loss of faith in himself in human nature, in God, in the fundamental good of life," said Dr. MacGowan. "Is this a correct interpretation of our age? It seems to me that it is—economic, mental and spiritual suicide. Every true artist is a seer, an interpreter of the age in which he lives."
 Before the exhibition closes late this month, results of the public's balloting on the awards will be announced.

McKinley Likely to Be Four-Year School Again

Board of Education Is Expected to Ratify Instruction Committee's Approval of Superintendent Gerling's Recommendation.

McKinley High School will be reopened as a full four-year high school at the end of January, under the second semester opens, under a plan of instruction officials. The Instruction Committee of the Board of Education has approved a recommendation to this effect by Supt. Gerling and the board is expected to ratify it next week.

McKinley, at 2156 Russell boulevard, has been an intermediate school, giving only ninth grade and a little eighth grade work, since January, 1925. Previously it was a four-year high school. It will become the sixth white high school, the others being Central, Beaumont, Soldan, Cleveland and Roosevelt. There are two Negro high schools, Sumner and Washon.

About 600 ninth grade pupils will be transferred to Roosevelt when the change is made at McKinley. At present Roosevelt has only tenth, eleventh and twelfth grade high school students. McKinley will retain about 500 ninth grade pupils from its own district, and by September is expected to have a total enrollment of about 1400. The district probably will extend from the river to Grand boulevard and between Market and Sidney streets.

It has not been determined who tion is given at present in the Carr Lane School, but the Franklin building will provide larger facilities, better equipment and opportunity for a wider range of instruction. The enrollment now at Carr Lane, 250, is expected to be doubled after January.

More Portable Buildings.

Eight portable school buildings have been erected at Third and Convent streets for a new Negro grade school. The Instruction Committee has approved Gerling's proposal to open this school in about two weeks and this, too, will go before the board next week. This will relieve the Dumas School, 2225 Eugenia street, and Lincoln School, 2236 Walnut street, and enable them to be thrown together as a unit. It also will save the Board of Education about $7000 a year in pupils' carfare.

Gerling in behalf of the board, has invited county school superintendents of Missouri and the officers of the Missouri State Teachers' association and district teachers' association to visit St. Louis schools next Monday and Tuesday and to be guests at a luncheon next Wednesday, Armistice day. The annual meeting of the State association will open here Wednesday. The public schools will be closed from next Tuesday afternoon until Monday morning, Nov. 16.

Lecture on Symphony Programs.

An analysis of this week's programs by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra will be presented at a pre-symphony lecture at the Park Plaza Hotel at 11:30 o'clock Friday morning. Leo C. Miller, director of the Miller-Ferguson Institute, will discuss the programs and analyze various numbers at the piano. The lecture is one in a course given under the auspices of the Women's Symphony Committee.

TONIGHT MAX SCHMELING TO BOX DEMPSEY IF JACK DECIDES TO 'COME BACK'

Dempsey and Stribling To Box Series of Exhibition Bout

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Max Schmeling will box Jack Dempsey in a series of four-round exhibition bouts on a ton of the Southeast this fall and early winter, it was announced here today by "Fat" Stribling.

PARIS.—Joe Jacobson, manager of Max Schmeling, who is a heavyweight boxing champion, today said that if Jack Dempsey returned to the ring, Schmeling would be the man he would meet.

Jacobson, who is in the United States on a tour of the States, said that he had been advised by American boxing managers to substantiate his assertion.

Schmeling will sail for the United States late in November. Jacobson said, for an exhibition bout of the larger cities, ending his tour in Los Angeles the middle of January. The champion will train there for his fight with Mickey Walker, a Miami, Fla., boxer, who is expected to meet Dempsey for the title.

It is said that Schmeling will meet Dempsey for the title. Schmeling will meet Dempsey for the title. Schmeling will meet Dempsey for the title.

Young Stribling Knocks Out Texas Heavy in Fourth

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 4.—(AP)—William Lawrence Stribling, the prize of Macon, Ga., engaged in his three hundredth boxing bout here last night, winning from "Red" Fitzsimmons of Texas on a technical knockout in the fourth round of a 10-round bout.

Fitzsimmons had little but courage. Six times Stribling knocked him down, only to have him struggle to his feet. The seventh time he went down the referee decided the Texan had taken enough punishment and ended the proceedings.

Stribling weighed 155 1/2 pounds. Fitzsimmons 180.

Cleveland Frosh Tie

The Cleveland High School freshman football team and the Hi-Point Athletic Club played a 14 to 14 tie yesterday afternoon on the Cleveland field. Thail and Gielmeck scored for Cleveland and Koyles and Waldron counted for Hi-Point.

When the St. Louis All-Stars took the Bricklayers of Chicago in an exhibition soccer match at Sportsman's Park Sunday the locals will be opposed by one of the strongest eleven in the country.

The Brickies went down before the great Fall River team in last year's national championship, two games to none, with one tie.

In the opening contest played in the East the Brickies went down, 6 goals to 0. However, they came back the following Sunday to gain a 1-1 draw, while they were stopped in the third and deciding match, 2 to 0.

To reach the grand final the Brickies eliminated the Ben Millers of the local circuit, 6-2 and 1-0. Many of the stars of the eleven of last season are still on the roster.

Vic Neate, a fine goalkeeper, is still between the uprights, while Davidson is playing one of the fullbacks. Tom Scott, a former St. Louis league player, is with the eleven, as are Greenleaf, Munro, Courts and Outbert, some fine forwards.

The team is the present champion of the Chicago Major League, and last Christmas day was defeated, 3 goals to 2, in an exhibition game with the St. Louis All-Stars.

With Bud Grenon suspended indefinitely because of his action of leaving the field last Sunday, it is probable that young McCauley will play outside right for the All-Stars.

Grenon's suspension will keep him inactive throughout the United States until he is again reinstated. Suspensions of this sort will help clean up the game and make the athletes realize that the referee really has something to say.

Young Teams Are Starring.
Several teams made up of young players are showing well in the Municipal League. The Macks are leading the Sherman Park division with two victories, although the opposition has been held without a point. The Clearlys, in winning two, have scored eight goals against one, while the St. Edwards 20 own a 1-1 record. The eleven has scored one goal against one for the opposition. Another team of newcomers, the Grand-Kosuth, has shown well.

GUNNERS' NEXT OPPONENT OWNS A FINE RECORD

Stiff opposition seems to be in store for the Battery A Gunners, professional football team, in their game next Sunday with the Chicago Panthers.

The Panthers are defending their honor as four-time champions of the Midwest Pro Football League and are among five teams in the "semifinals." The "semifinals" of this league's affairs mean a round of games played among the best clubs of the 16 in the circuit, as determined by records—a club must have won four games prior to Nov. 1, and remain undefeated thereafter.

Last Sunday, the Panthers defeated the Dauphin eleven, 13 to 6, and their headline performer, "Red" Gallivan from University of Illinois, proved to be the star again. Reports of the victory over the Dauphin team state that Gallivan did the bulk of the ground-gaining for the Panthers, making one broken field advance of 45 yards, and scored one of the two touchdowns. Marvin Wood, halfback from Southern California, made the other tally.

The management of the Panther team has sent word it will have 20 players in a party of 40 scheduled to come to St. Louis Sunday.

Gunners Are Drilling.
Meanwhile, Coach Jimmy Conzelmann is drilling the Gunners in night sessions at Stars' Park. The squad came out of the 24-0 victory over the Kansas City Cowboys last Sunday without injury.

Conzelmann is giving special attention this week to kicking for the point after touchdown, the team having failed to convert four times against Kansas City. Conzelmann doesn't want to lose a close game to spare.

Stevens to Quit Yale Coaching Job After 1931

Special to The Post-Dispatch.
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 4.—(AP)—This will be Mal Stevens' last year as head coach at Yale. The doctor's contract expires at the end of the football season and it is considered doubtful here that he would sign up again even were he asked to do so.

Stevens has spent several seasons since graduation from medical school abroad in study and he believes it is time to retire from coaching.

The certainty that Stevens will not return has led Yale into two factions. The "old-timers" want a Yale man as head coach and the "youngsters" want one from some other college. Traditions are strong at Yale and the veterans point out that Yale's head coach always has been a Yale man and they claim, always should be.

On the other hand, the younger Yale men are anxious to regain Eli's old place in the football sun and they feel that this can better be accomplished by a coach from an "outside" college.

Stevens succeeded Tad Jones as head coach. Tad retiring to devote his entire time to the coal business. Rumor here is that, if properly approached, Jones might consent to return and there are those who would welcome his return, the old-timers especially. But, tradition already has been broken with the signing of Adam Walsh of Notre Dame as line coach two years ago and the recent grads are all for an "outsider" to point out that except for Tad Jones, the only Yale man in recent years to make a great success of coaching has been Howard Jones and there is no chance whatever to wear Howard away from his honor at the University of Southern California.

Yale has games with St. Johns of Annapolis, Harvard and Princeton yet to play but no matter what the result of these games, it is believed the early winter will bring the announcement of a new head coach.

ALLEN MATTHEWS GETS OFF FLOOR AND KAYOES CHICAGO MIDDLEWEIGHT

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 4.—Allen Matthews, St. Louis Negro welterweight, knocked out Patsy Pollock, Chicago, middleweight, in the fourth round of a scheduled 10-round fight here last night. Pollock, a terrific biter, had Matthews down for a short count prior to the knockout and the St. Louis Negro rose from the floor and scored a knockout in a round in which he appeared to be hopelessly beaten.

PLANS FOR STATE HIGH TRACK MEET TO BE MADE HERE, NOV. 11-14

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 4.—Although the University of Missouri does not have adequate funds to finance interscholastic week here next week, the annual track championships will be held as usual under the auspices of the State High School Athletic Association.

C. L. Brewer, director of athletics, yesterday pointed out that the track meet, which attracts several hundred athletes each year, was not dependent upon the university for financial aid, and therefore would not be affected by the economy measures of the university.

Final plans for this year's program are expected to be made at a meeting in St. Louis during the State Teachers' Association convention, Nov. 11 to 14.

NORTHWESTERN DISTURBED OVER GOPHER SHIFT

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—The famous Minnesota shift, 1931 model, will be under close observation Saturday when the Gophers meet Northwestern's Wildcats in their all-important Big Ten football war at Dwyer Stadium.

Coaches, scouts and players from Iowa and Wisconsin have complained so loudly about the alleged failure of the Gophers to make a full second's halt after their shift that Northwestern officials have decided to be very much on the lookout Saturday.

Length of Stop.
During the Minnesota-Iowa game it was charged by some Iowa officials, including Assistant Coach Rollie Williams, that the Gophers failed to halt much more than a split second after their shift. The same charge was heard from Wisconsin's camp after the Badgers had taken a 14-to-0 licking last week.

Coach Dick Hanley of Northwestern questioned his scouts closely on the charge and will request the officials of Saturday's game to be on the lookout for such violations, which mean a loss of 15 yards. The Wildcats were penalized freely last week and Coach Hanley is now a stickler for rule enforcement as never before.

Northwestern's hopes of stemming the big Minnesota rush bounded upward today on the shoulders of Red Russell, star Wildcat fullback. The big Wildcat line cracker, who was injured severely in the Nebraska game, returned to active practice last night and looked as good as ever and was regarded as a certain member in the backfield for Saturday's game.

With his return, Coach Hanley planned to shift his backfield, sending Ollie Olson from fullback to halfback.

After two days of complete rest, Minnesota's varsity returned to work last night with much emphasis on defense against Northwestern passes and "Tug" Rentner's long runs. Pete Somers was unable to take his quarterback post because of a sore side, so Kenny MacDougall took the job.

Old-fashioned fundamentals of football received the attention of most of the other Big Ten teams as they prepared for their conference and interschool struggles. Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg hailed out as the first time in his coaching career as part of the drill for Arkansas' invasion. Blocking and interference were stressed at Wisconsin, Iowa and Purdue.

Injuries at Illinois.
The injury jinx overtook Illinois again. Herman Walser, regarded as the best quarterback in the Illini camp, injured his leg last night and may be lost for the Wisconsin battle. Indiana, had something to worry about with Sabik, its star passer, out.

Coach Harry Kipke, still distressed with Michigan's scoring punch, doled out new plays for the Wolverines, while Harry Eastman, a letterman, flashed his old-time form at halfback.

Except for Lew Hinchman, a real plunger, all hands were well and ready at Ohio State for the Navy. A crowd of between 55,000 and 60,000 was expected to watch the struggle.

MODERN ROBINSON CRUSOES

Opinion

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr, at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest but, of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an addressed and stamped envelope for a personal reply.

DEAR MRS. CARR: Is it proper to wear a yellow georgette dress now? If so, how much longer?

Georgette dresses are always worn and airy for young girls, and though they are not so much worn in winter, are perfectly proper for any dance or festive affair.

DEAR MRS. CARR: I am sending this letter to you for some good advice, as you seem so kind and to every one of your writers. I am a bachelor and am deeply in love with a girl, but I don't know how to explain my troubles to her. I am afraid if I tell her, she may not think so much of me. Do you think if she loves me she could put up with my feeling ill a good deal of the time? It is nervous and due to trouble and I hate to think I could worry her with these things. I have a good position and can make her a good home. I have told her I didn't think I would ever marry, on account of my health. I have since my parents died I am thinking a little differently. But I don't know what to do about this.

ANXIOUS TOM.

If the girl has the nice sensibility and consideration that you now, I am sure your physical troubles, since there is nothing malignant or hopeless, would not keep her from caring for you and being a good wife. As a matter of fact, your health, with regularity, diet, rest and happiness, would probably improve very much. I often marry men who are very strong and sturdy but later develop the tragic ill health. Who can guarantee health for all time? Of course, tell her frankly your selfishness and fairness and she will decide the matter as you wish.

DEAR MRS. CARR: I am not pretty, but suppose I will pass in a crowd. I am neat dress well. From a child I always wanted to be a little different from the ordinary girl. I presume that makes me a little queer and old-fashioned. My ambition is to earn as much money as possible so that I can give my parents enough money and a comfortable home for their old age. There is a certain young man whom my parents seem to have set out for me to marry, but he seems like a brother to me. I wish he says he loves me and I have devoted for five years. I always like to him, though he says I treat him mean. No one seems to be interested in I despise foolish petting, but I see real love in my heart's because I have my ideal man in mind.

JUST BLUE.

You must not consider so devoted young man lightly. They do come around every day. But you are badly in need of natural company and festivities. If mother is not willing to help find them, shake off the ingratitude complex and the habit of expecting and dash out and find youngsters your own age. I am sure you can. Explain to your father and to your friends, that you must have more vacation diversion in order to be sure of your own mind. With your quality (minus the work over you can accomplish more than mediocre girl.

DEAR MRS. CARR: I am very interested in ice skating, but my ankles are weak. I am taking lessons at school. I hope and others, do you think it will help? It takes me long to walk anywhere. What will SKATER.

Blocks Apart

Chapter Fifteen.

JULIE tried to be honest with herself. If Livingstone or any one of her own crowd had given an exhibition dance with her, and had kissed her at the end, no one would have thought anything of it. But because young Farrell was a professional . . . How did she know what people were thinking? Probably they were sneering, or at least gossiping . . . The trouble was that Ralph resented the kiss.

She arrived at this conclusion finally, at least, she admitted it to herself: she had known it all along. For Ralph had not awaited her return; he had danced off with Trudie instead. To begin with, he had objected to her dancing with Jimmy. And this unexpected finish had turned objection into jealous anger. She couldn't blame him. After all, to have your fiancée publicly kissed by a "hooper" . . . Only, it was public, and the very fact that 200 persons saw the excess ought to rob it of any meaning.

Meaning? Her cheeks burned as her thoughts reached the word. If meaning were in the kiss, then she and Jimmy were the ones who put it there. Jimmy, of course, had been frank about it. But she—she felt that shamefully passable sensation which she had no right to feel.

She loved Ralph. How, then, could she possibly feel anything but disgust at the kiss of another man? And now, as she asked herself this question again, distance smiled her. How dared Jimmy? How dared he tell her of his love? How dared he, because he had made up his mind to marry her? She was qualified to enter the lists for her hand? He knew that she was engaged to Ralph, and yet this did not enter him from boasting of his little triumph, from boasting about the money he would make.

She was in a mood of hard contemptuous toward Farrell when she finally emerged from the dressing room to encounter Dolly Wanders. That gay blonde was flushed with excitement.

"What a girl you turned out to be," she cried. "How many times did you and Jimmy Farrell kiss? Tell me, how did your friend like it?"

"Dolly, don't be vulgar," said Julie.

"She tells me not to be vulgar," chuckled Dolly. "Still waters run deep. All that sort of thing. Everyone thinks you're a great sport, Julie, and you certainly are. Mrs. Maybury is just about sobbing. Says you're the gamest, most wonderful girl in the world. As for me, I'm right up there and put on that dance again."

JULIE hid her surprise at this angle on the situation. But, after all, she might have known that this would be the viewpoint taken by her friends. When one of them painted a picture, or wrote a poem, more fuss was made about it than over an original by Baxton or a verse by Kipling. For the class to which Julie belonged had money and what passed for social position, but it had little else. Its self-confidence was strengthened when one of its members made every tiny success in competition with professional. If a Junior Leaguer went on the stage and succeeded, a thousand other Junior Leaguers could plume themselves.

So now, because Julie had twice helped to make Jimmy Farrell's dance successful, all her friends felt complacent. Julie, without experience, had done what any chorus girl could do, and so she was a heroine in their eyes. For the class to which Julie belonged had money and what passed for social position, but it had little else. Its self-confidence was strengthened when one of its members made every tiny success in competition with professional. If a Junior Leaguer went on the stage and succeeded, a thousand other Junior Leaguers could plume themselves.

"Look what we can do when we try."

hotly. "Why the right to choose our own friends is precious, and."

"Marriage doesn't work out that way," he assured her. "Ours must, or—"

"Or what?" he asked grimly. "Don't make me finish it, Ralph," she begged. "I love you. You love me. Why spoil our love with unpleasantness? Why not be reasonable with each other, and."

"That's all I want—that you be reasonable," he told her. "Ralph, how long have you loved me?" she suddenly asked. "Since I first knew you," he replied. "And you've wanted me—a lot?" "More, I think, than I'll ever be able to make clear to you," he answered.

"But the Julie Treherne you loved so greatly yesterday hasn't changed overnight, Ralph. She can't change overnight. She can't submit her body and her soul to another person's whims."

"They aren't whims," he protested. "But if I consider them whims, then that's all they are—to me," she said. "Now, Farrell isn't important. He interests me—what he is, what he hopes to be—what he came from—"

"How can I help saying it? It's obvious when he looks at you, when he speaks to you, and when he danced with you—Did you know he was going to kiss you?" "Certainly not," she replied angrily. "And did you like it?" he sneered. "Ralph," she said softly, "I think we've made a mistake, I think we'd better end our engagement right now."

New Furred Wraps
The newest evening wraps are furred at the bottom instead of the top. Hip-length jackets worn with summer evening frocks are designed with simple unadorned necklines and flaring peplums banded with fur. Even the flowered chiffon jackets accompanying matching frocks use the fur treatment in this way.

Crepe Blousette
A leading shop features a sheer black crepe "blousette" with a little peplum and small cape-sleeves frosted with silver or black sequins. It also comes in white crepe with silver sequins.

Embroideries
The Swiss and batiste dresses of this year may be laundered carefully and look like new, but they must be ironed on the wrong side in order to bring out the embroidered patterns. A too-hot iron must be avoided, as it is apt to destroy the color and is very likely to scorch on the uneven surface of the embroidery.

Fresh Air and Sunshine
No matter how well fed the child may be, it will never bring roses and a healthy color to his cheeks if he is not given plenty of fresh air and sunshine. Mothers, let some of the work go and get out these brisk fall days with your kiddies. It will benefit the whole family and prove more important in the long run than a spotless house at any price.

EMMERSON SAYS ILLINOIS VERGES ON BANKRUPTCY

Governor, in Message to Special Session of Assembly, Urges Action to Avert Wholesale Repudiation of Bonds.

Gloomy Picture of Taxes Uncollected, of Refusals to Pay Under Guise of Inability, and Mounting Expenditures.

By the Associated Press. Nov. 5. — A gloomy picture of a state on the verge of bankruptcy because of uncollected taxes and mounting expenditures was sketched today by Gov. Louis L. Emmerson in his opening message to the special session of the Fifty-fifth General Assembly. It now is up to the legislators, he said, to save Illinois from the disgrace of repudiating its financial obligations.

"Local and state governments in Illinois are face to face with the most serious financial crisis in their history," Gov. Emmerson said. "It has reached the point where something must be done if we are to avoid bankruptcy and wholesale repudiation of bonded obligations."

One cause for the State's condition, he declared, lay with the voters who turned down, in the November, 1927, election a proposed constitutional amendment which, he said, would have resulted in a more equitable method of tax collection and led to revenue reform preventing the State's present financial crisis.

Other causes, he added, were: The order of the State Tax Commission for the reassessment of all real estate in Cook County in 1928, resulting in a prolonged delay in tax collections; the inability of taxpayers because of the economic depression to pay their assessments; the refusal of other taxpayers, under the guise of inability, to pay their assessments; expenditures by local governments of sums which they expected to, but did not, collect in taxes.

Chicago and Cook County.

"Due primarily to delay in the collection of taxes and shrinkage in the amount of money realized from local assessments, the Governments of Chicago and Cook County are unable to meet current bills, to fulfill their financial obligations, or to obtain additional credit, and failure of Cook County to pay its share of taxes has seriously handicapped the State Government," the Governor declared.

"At the same time, many cities and counties throughout Illinois are feeling the effects of decreased income and inability of taxpayers to pay amounts assessed against their properties."

"I am informed that approximately 20 per cent of all taxes levied in Cook County for the years 1927, 1928, and 1929 are uncollected," he added. "This amounts to a total of more than $141,000,000. But local governments have been spending on the assumption that these taxes would be paid and as a consequence large deficits have been accumulated."

"An analysis of the figures shows that, while personal and railroad property have continued to pay their tax bills, real estate has defaulted in increasing amounts, growing from $2,000,000 in 1927 to $16,000,000 in 1928, and $64,000,000 in 1929. It is quite evident that there will be a very large deficit in taxes for 1930, which are uncollected."

Because of this condition, he asserted, banks are unwilling to purchase any more tax anticipation warrants and the indigent governments are unable to raise ready cash.

Calls for New Ideas.

The Governor then related the history of his revenue commission, appointed last summer, and whose program and recommendations will be among the things discussed by the legislators at this session. He asked the Assembly to consider the commission's offerings, and those at variance with them. He called special attention to a recommendation by the commission that an amendment to the revenue section of the State Constitution be voted as "the first step towards adequate tax reform."

"While the Executive Committee of the commission has taken the in-
